Senator Beveridge will not even tell the newspapers what he told President McKinley. His say will be awaited by the public with less pa-

Nothing thrilling in the way of news has come from Manila since the early part of the week when the cable startled us with the announcement that five American soldiers had put a squad of rebels to flight and captured one bull-cart, presumed, in the absence of statements to the contrary, to be as good as new.

The example given by Congressman Lentz in his speech at the mass meeting in New York of the Chicago platform democracy, of the government censorship of the official news from Manila, is sufficiently to the point. Mr. Lentz said the war department gave out a dispatch as follows: "Volunteers willing to remain." The congressman went to the department and asked to see the original, which read: "Volunteers unwilling to re-enlist, but willing to remain until transports arrive."

It is reported that Colonel Bryan has reconsidered his determination to take part in the Kentucky campaign in behalf of Candidate Goebel and will keep out of the state fight of the democrats. In this Mr. Bryan cannot but be considered wise. The trouble in Kentucky is purely a family affair. Each faction is friendly to Mr. Bryan. No national issues are involved and even state issues do not rise to the importance of the intraparty issues which the Kentucky democracy has to settle. Mr. Bryan would only multiply trouble for himself and his Kentucky friends by espousing the cause of either faction. The Kentuckians will determine their fight in their own way, and that way is in large part not Mr. Bryan's way.

The New York Times publishes an interview with a man who says he knows all about the scheme supposed to have been devised in this country to rescue Dreyfus from Devil's Island, and which Dreyfus refused to entertain because he did not want liberty without vindication. Unfortunately nately for the interview, this man refuses to give his name and talks very little. He says all the Americans in the scheme have since distinguished themselves in the American wars, and of course that leaves a whole army to choose from. When asked if Funston was in it, he replied, "Well—er—men of that kind," which still gives a rather large field from which to guess. The interviewer got as close to it once as to say that all the men had been engaged in Cuban filibustering expeditions.

And now just as fashion decrees that ribbon is to be employed profusely in the embellishment of the new millinery and gowns, the organization of a silk ribbon trust is proposed. The trust is to have control of nearly all the ribbon mills of the country and through its incorporation the price of silk ribbon is to be advanced one-half cent a line. This is a serious announcement. All woman-kind loves ribbons, and some idea of the extent to which they wear them may be conceived from the statement that the contemplated combine is to have a capital of thirty million dollars. Detailed information is not vouchsafed, but it may be readily assumed that the members of the proposed trust are all of the masculine order. About the only ribbon a man wears is the one around his hat. Woman buys millions of yards of ribbon annually. She uses it for all sorts of purposes from a bow for her bonnet to rosettes for her garters or a mark for her prayer book. There need be no fear, however, that the ends of poetical justice will be defeated, for although it is mostly the women who buy the ribbons, it is mostly the men who pay for them.

The fate of Captain Alfred Dreyfus, the French army officer, persecuted because he was born a Jew and made the scape-goat of a foul nest of generals, is now with the judges of the court-martial. It is scarcely possible to conceive any other issue of the trial than an acquittal. But we in America are apt to judge the status of the case by the high standards of American justice. The trial is in France where the army is everything, and the general staff of the army is mad for a second, a complete and a permanent degradation of the accused officer. The trial has disclosed to all the world the intensity of the desire of the generals for the conviction of the prisoner and the weakness of the case against him. There has been no real evidence. The generals have simply declared on their souls and their consciences and on their hearts and other internal organs that "Dreyfus is guilty," and there it ends. It is proved that Dreyfus not only was not the author of the bordereau, but that he could not have written it. The man who did not write the bordereau is not the culprit. That Dreyfus is not the man who wrote the treasonable document proved, the case might have stopped there and full justice been done. There is really promising ground upon which to base a hope of acquittal. It is not to be imagined that the court-martial would refuse the rogatory commission to secure the evidence of Colonel Schwartzkoppen, former German military attaché at Paris, and Major Panizzardi, former Italian military attaché, unless some verdict had been already agreed upon. These men could not only have cleared Dreyfus absolutely, it innocent, but could have made it possible to uncover the real traitor. It looks much as though the purpose is to acquit Dreyfus and spare the man actually guilty.

CADET WILLSON HOME.

James Willson, a cadet at the Annapolis naval academy, arrived in the city Thursday evening for a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Willson, of 59 Oakley street. Mr. Willson is on a furlough and will remain until September 20. He is highly pleased with his new life in Uncle Sam's service. Cadet Willson was aboard the training ship "Monongahela," which was recently becalmed at sea, and its prolonged absence occasioned some alarm in naval circles. The ship is an old sailing vessel and was in a number of severe squalls during its voyage, as well as passing uncomfortably close to a waterspout. These disturbances were followed by a calm, so that the vessel was unable to reach port. Cadet Willson says there was no alarm among those on board at any time, though they ran out of fresh water and were obliged to start the condensing apparatus.

MYSTERY IN MOOSIER GOLD.

BROWN COUNTY FARMERS PAN OUT DUST MANY YEARS.

No Lode Is Found, But With Blanket They Catch Flour Gold on Top of Sluice Boxes.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 8.—Thirty-miles from Indianapolis as the crow flies is a county as unknown to the rest of the state, almost as Thibet is to the civilized world. Jagged and rough with hills, whose poor soil offers a scanty subsistence to its struggling handful of people, Brown county has never heard the shriek of a locomotive whistle. Though for more than fifty years gold has been found there, the county never has known a mining camp of more than three tents.

Last week the state was startled by the announcement that the Indianapolis and Southern railroad is to build a line through the heart of this isolated region. The officials speak in no sanguine terms of what they expect to haul out of old Brown county, though they refer hopefully to the hard-wood lumber on the rocky hills.

But it is gold that has given Brown county its greatest claim to prominence, aside from its remoteness and the primitive quaintness of its inhabitants. Professor John Collett, a learned Indiana geologist who died recently, once said there was enough gold in this county to pay the entire national debt, then grimly added that every dollar's worth of gold taken out of the county would require the expenditure of another dollar. And this is what hundreds of men who have ventured to pan the creeks of Brown county in the last century have found out, yet each summer finds the gold-seekers at work on the black sandbars.

SOURCE OF A GOLD MYSTERY.

This summer the activity was renewed with greater zest than ever, and prospectors are drifting up into Morgan county, where the finds are better and the signs more favorable. It is not uncommon to hear of men making $5 a day panning. Nothing more progressive in mining machinery than the old-fashioned rocker and rough sluice-box has ever been utilized. While every rain brings down gold from the hillsides, no one has been able to find quartz. It is all fine flour gold of twenty-two carats, and equal in quality and color to the best gold of the west African coast. No borings have been made, and the source of the gold is a mystery even to those geologists who maintain it came down from the north with the glacial drift. The uniformity of its appearance, notwithstanding the scantiness of quantity, leads to the general impression that nature placed the gold in solution, as it were, in these high, broad hills.

MINES IN FARM BARNYARDS.

In the spring, summer, and autumn, when attention can be diverted from the miserable garden patches, the farmers take a turn at the pans, and make profits ranging from 75 cents to $3 a day, every man having a gold mine in his barnyard. The scarcity of flowing water operates against larger profits.

Near Centerton, Morgan county, a few miles over the Brown county line, many phials of the flour gold have been secured this month. Most of the gold is sent to Indianapolis, where it is handled by one jeweler, Edward G. Gardner, who has great faith in the ultimate gold output of Brown and Morgan counties. Many articles of jewelry worn in this city are made of the Hoosier state gold, and Brown county gold has been a favorite in the emblem rings worn by local Scottish Rite Masons.

The state board of tax commissioners last week assessed the county at an average of $6.26 an acre for land and improvements, the whole value of the county being fixed at $1,789,000. Yet when a stranger appears along one of these gold-bearing creeks and asks a farmer to put a price on his land, the value immediately jumps to $50 or more an acre, only to take a tumble when the stranger leaves. Seldom is a farm sold.

The sluice boxes used by the farmers are about five feet long. The black sand, with plenty of water, is poured into one end of the boxes and the particles of gold sink to resting places between the intercepting boards.

FLOUR GOLD IN BLANKETS.

Much of the gold is so fine it floats on the surface of the waters, and the miners use a simple method to catch it. A blanket is laid over the open top of the box, and is allowed to rest on the water flowing through. The minute grains of gold catch on the rough blanket, and are thus arrested. The blanket is taken to the farmhouse and placed in a warm room. It soon dries out, and is then beaten over paper spread on the floor.

Jeweler Garner has a scheme by which he figures twenty times as much gold can be taken out of the creeks in a day as by the small sluice boxes. He proposes to construct a great trough, 150 feet long, after the pattern of the crude sluice boxes, and by the use of a force pump send the black sand and the water of the creeks into the trough by the barrelful. He estimates that with a capital of $1,000 for first expenses a gold-garnering plant can be established on Gold Creek, in Morgan county, at a large profit.

HERMIT OF THE HILLS.

In the Brown county recesses are queer characters. One of them, Henry Blivens, an argonaut of '49, has acquired an air of mystery by his reticence and his lonely life in a cabin up in the hills. That he washes for gold every one knows, though no one has definite information as to what Blivens has made. Reports are common that he has discovered the lode and is taking out gold secretly in small quantities and spiriting it away to some city. A mysterious trip he made to Chicago set the farmers to speculating, and when Blivens admitted that he sold $100 worth of the flakes belief in his hidden wealth was strengthened. Once he was seen to carry a quantity of gold to a bank in a neighboring county. He attends the Mount Olive church in the Salt Creek neighborhood every Sunday morning, and when the services are over rapidly strides away to his fastness in the hills, where none has dared to disturb him.

It is said Blivens has found several nuggets, a thing now rare in Brown county, although some as high as $35 in value have been found in years past. The first kind of nuggets was on Bean Blossom Creek, which for years gave its name to Brown county gold. Tradition has it, and there is little else of history in Brown county, that large finds were made by the natives before the war.

Another quaint gold-seeker is "Old Man" Merriman. His farm consists of 1,000 acres of barren land. Most of his time he spends along Gold Creek, industriously washing out the black sand. On his trips he carries a bag of brown sugar, and his few acquaintances say he subsists on sugar alone when he is searching for the yellow metal. He is content to lie down at night at the side of a log and sleep until the sun calls him to the creek again. Four times a year he comes to Indianapolis with a bottle of flour gold, sells it, and returns to his monotonous existence on Gold Creek.

ROYALTY ON ROCKERS.

A few years ago an old California prospector thought he could solve the problem in Brown county, and surprised the people there by constructing a rocker. Then the farmers for miles around began building rockers. The old prospector bided his time and then went around demanding a royalty of $17 on each rocker, claiming he was the inventor and patentee. At last he had found a Goldconda. A year later some chap from the city strolled in and told the people there was no more patent on a rocker than on a plain broom handle. Next day the ex-argonaut left Brown county for good.

DRAWING THE NET.

Plymouth, Ind., Sept. 8.—Evidence is accumulating tending to fix the responsibility for the attempted murder of the Rev. M. L. Peters, of Lapex, and family, near here, last Saturday night, by the use of dynamite. That the murder of Peters was contemplated is shown by the fact that the heavy charge was placed within three feet of his study chair, which he would have been occupying had he been at home at the time the explosion occurred. The prosecution of the guilty parties will be pushed, as the people of the entire county are much exasperated because of the dastardly deed. Mr. Peters is not a prohibitionist; indeed he is exceptionally liberal-minded for a minister on the question of intoxicants. His instrumentality in the prosecution of persons connected with the drink traffic was on no other grounds than that the law had been violated. He has taken no exception to the saloon when operated within the restrictions of the law.

VERDICT IS NEAR.

innocence and his touching letters to his family, exclaiming:

"In them you see his soul, which speaks. Alone in his tomb he communes with himself. He cherishes the hope of seeing his innocence acknowledged."

LETTERS OF DREYFUS.

Among the letters of Dreyfus read by M. Demange was one in which, after asserting his innocence and declaring he always served the tri-color with devotion and honor, the prisoner complained that he was treated on Devil's Island like an ordinary convict. It concludes with the words:

"I wish to live."

"That is a soldier's soul," exclaimed M. Demange, "and it is that man you call a traitor. That is the man who in your presence restrains his sobs and his emotions."

"Ah, gentlemen, I would rather defend guilty men who are clever dissemblers than an innocent man who is too sincere."

Other letters of the prisoner were read, all breathing the same desire to live to see his honor restored, though the writer was broken down in health and spirit.

APPEALED TO BOISDEFRE.

One letter, written in 1897, appeals to General De Boisdeffre to lend his generous aid in securing for the writer his restoration to the liberty of which he had been robbed.

Writing to his brother, the prisoner said:

"While one or more scoundrels are walking free, it would be a happy release for me to die, but it would be a disgrace to Lucille and my children."

In this letter the writer urged his brother to find the culprits, while carefully protecting the interests of the country.

"Is not that the cry of an innocent man?" asked M. Demange, adding: "Yet, though General De Boisdeffre received the letter, he did not forward it to Mathieu Dreyfus."

PRODUCED NO PROOFS.

"Five ministers of war," said M. Demange, "pronounced Dreyfus guilty, while admitting it was impossible to produce proofs. General De Boisdeffre, General Gonse and General Roget also affirmed their belief in his guilt. But, happily, they stated reasons, and, instead of proofs, only accumulated presumptions."

After pointing out that the generals only studied the case at the very moment when public aberration had reduced the whole question to a conflict between Dreyfus and the army, thus making it impossible that the generals should not be prejudiced, and probabilities and presumptions seemed to them to be proofs, M. Demange said: "I must acknowledge, however, the honesty and honorable conduct of the generals, who could not have acted otherwise than they have done."

TRIBUTE TO THE GENERALS.

Counsel then paid an eloquent tribute to the "honesty of purpose" manifested by the generals.

Dealing next with the confessions, counsel read the report of Captain Lebrun-Renault, of the republican guard, who had the prisoner in custody previous to his degradation, and maintained that the exact words of Dreyfus, which were now known, only reflected ideas Colonel Du Paty de Clam had previously expressed to the prisoner, adding that although Du Paty de Clam maintained the contrary, it was certain imagination had played a much greater part than reason in the acts of Du Paty de Clam. It was also significant that the report drawn up by Du Paty de Clam on the day following his interview with Dreyfus had disappeared. Du Paty de Clam, counsel pointed out, had evidently forgotten his remarks to Dreyfus, as he had forgotten other facts.

GONSE'S ATTITUDE.

M. Demange said he was surprised at the attitude of General Gonse towards the alleged confessions and marveled at the fact that Captain Lebrun-Renault, who was sent to the Elysee palace expressly to repeat the confessions, did not mention them. It was likewise inexplicable that General Saussier and General Mercier took no steps to verify the so-called confessions, which were lost sight of until M. Cavaignac sprung them upon the chamber of deputies as proof of the guilt of Dreyfus. The court of cassation had justly decided that they were not confessions.

THE SECRET DOSSIER.

Proceeding to discuss the secret dossier, M. Demange examined the documents one after the other. He said that all interpretations of the document commencing "doubts proof" were hypothetical, but they applied much more easily to Esterhazy than to Dreyfus. It was so with the other documents.

There was nothing to indicate that Dreyfus was concerned any more than anyone else. The leakage ascribed to Dreyfus could only refer to the plans of fortresses and this leakage continued until 1897.

The document containing the words "cette annule de D—" only indicated a poor devil and could not be ascribed to a man whom another let-ted described as a friend in the second bureau. No credence could be attached to some of the documents, while others did not apply at all to the prisoner.

The sixth document was a letter written by Count Von Munster-Ledenburg, the German ambassador to France from Germany, to Colonel Schwartzkoppen, the military attaché of Germany at Paris, containing the words "As regards Dreyfus, we are easy." M. Demange pointed out that the Dreyfus case was the universal topic of Germany at the time, and, at first, the German officials might have been uneasy, but had evidently reassured themselves. Counsel was indignant that because Count Von Munster-Ledenburg had not expressly declared Dreyfus was innocent, the prosecution had deducted from his words an avowal of the guilt of Dreyfus.

LETTER BY PANIZZARDI.

In regard to the letters of November 2 and November 11, sent by Major Panizzardi to his chief, it had been alleged that they proved Dreyfus had relations with Colonel Schwartzkoppen, whereas, in reality, Major Panizzardi merely denied that Dreyfus had any relations with Italy. It was impossible to doubt the authenticity of these facts. It was incredible that Colonel Schwartzkoppen and Major Panizzardi deceived their governments. The omission of Esterhazy's name from these letters was intentional.

Concluding his examinations of the secret dossier, M. Demange remarked that he felt compelled to refer to these documents emanating from foreigners, as General Mercier relied upon them to support the guilt of Dreyfus. The statements of the military attaches that they had no relations with Dreyfus had been confirmed by the statement of the minister in the reichstag, who could not have been deceived by his attaché at Paris.

DOSSIER IS WORTHLESS.

"I have finished," said M. Demange, "my examination of the secret dossier. All France knows the worthlessness of its contents. Yet it is owing to it that the country has been distracted for months and it has been thought that there were documents and proofs in it which might bring France to blows with a neighboring power. You are now acquainted with it. The secret dossier has been exploded."

"You will pardon me the loss of time I have imposed upon you. I will now take up the circumstantial evidence."

A brief adjournment of the court was then announced.

Counsel was warmly applauded as he took his seat.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

On the resumption of the session M. Demange discussed the circumstantial evidence adduced in 1894. He said the perturbation of Dreyfus at the dictation scene had nothing to do with producing the idea of guilt in the minds of those present. Colonel Du Paty de Clam, M. Cochefert and Major Gréblin were all convinced beforehand of his guilt, as a result of evidence which they considered unimpeachable, so much so that they wished Dreyfus to blow out his brains, but Dreyfus declined, because he was innocent. M. Demange successively showed the hollowness of the stories of Mathieu Dreyfus' attempt to corrupt Colonel Sandherr, the late Lieutenant Colonel Henry's theatrical denunciation of Dreyfus as a traitor at the court martial of 1894, and the reports of the detectives. He pointed out how the prosecution had advanced as proof the alleged statements of individuals who were not in any war office, but whom they carefully abstain from producing for examination, especially dwelling upon Henry's statement in 1894, which has since been admitted to be false, that a certain war office employee informed him that Dreyfus was the culprit. M. Demange then showed the emptiness of the gambling and libertine charges against the prisoner and said the simplest actions of Dreyfus were misconstrued, even his legitimate desire to obtain knowledge being imputed as crime.

Could a spy have maintained the haughty demeanor Dreyfus always showed toward his comrades?

FALSITY OF EVIDENCE.

After demonstrating the falsity of the evidence of M. de Beaurepaire's witnesses, Mueller, Dubreuil, Villon and Cernuschi, counsel said the only proof left was the bordereau. Who could have sent it? Who wrote it? Complete light could only be shed on it by the production of the notes enumerated in the bordereau.

This had been said by General Zurlinden himself. But, counsel asked the court to remember with reference to those notes that all General Deloye could say was that it was not impossible that Dreyfus might have possessed them. This was all he could say when it was a question of high treason. M. Demange added:

"You will find this phrase in the mouth of a witness entitled to your entire respect, and it is upon the strength of such a statement that Dreyfus is to be proved guilty. I will not attempt to obtain such light on the documents, but since theories have been promulgated I will suggest one. I will seek to show that you must put aside even the technical value of the bordereau and the last effort of the prosecution. I will seek to combat the circumstantial evidence it has invoked."

At the request of M. Demange, the court, at this juncture, adjourned until tomorrow.

EXONERATES DREYFUS.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—The Reichsanzeiger, this evening, in the official portion of the paper, published the following statement:

"We are authorized to repeat here with the declarations which the imperial government, while loyally observing the reserve demanded to the internal matters of another country, has made concerning the French Captain Dreyfus. For the preservation of his own dignity and the fulfillment of a duty to humanity, Prince Von Munster, after obtaining the orders of the emperor, repeatedly made in December, 1894, and in January, 1895, to M. Hanotaux, M. Dupuy and M. Casimir-Perier, declarations to the effect that the imperial embassy in France never maintained either directly or indirectly any relations with Dreyfus."

"Secretary of State Von Buelow, in the reichstag, January 24, 1898, made the following statement:

"I declare in the most positive manner that no relations or connections of any kind ever existed between the French ex-captain, Dreyfus, now on Devil's Island, and any German agents."

AFTER THIRTY-FIVE YEARS.

Scottsburg, Ind., Sept. 8.—After thirty-five years of separation, James J. Carter, of this place, has succeeded in locating the family of his brother John, whom he lost track of during the late war. Both enlisted in Ohio in the cause of the union. In 1864, John was captured by the confederates, and taken to the Andersonville prison, where he died, of starvation. He left a wife, who died a few years later, and four children. After the close of the war, Mr. Carter returned to his Ohio home, and finally moved here. No trace could be found of his brother's family, and years of fruitless search followed. Last week, while on a street car, in Cincinnati, Dr. Sarver, who resides here, was struck by the resemblance of the motorman to Mr. Carter, and, knowing of the separation, made inquiries concerning him. Strange to say, it proved to be Mr. Carter's brother's oldest child. Correspondence followed, and now the motorman will visit his uncle here, who is too feeble to travel to Cincinnati.

STEREOPTICON EXHIBITION.

The stereopticon views, which, on account of imperfect conditions on Labor day night, failed to show to advantage and as a result were abandoned, will be displayed at Swinney park next Thursday night. Everything will be so arranged as to make the views show to perfection. Many of the views have been retaken and some additional ones will be added. The Olympia band will be present and render a fine musical program, which will be published later. The entertainment will be free and the thousands of people who were at Swinney park on Labor day night to see the views and who went away disappointed will have an opportunity of seeing one of the best and most unique shows of the kind ever given in Fort Wayne.

New York, Sept. 8.—A special to the Journal and Advertiser from Washington says: After forty-eight hours of almost constant discussion among the president, Secretary Root, Prof. Schurman, Senator Beveridge, General Miles and Adjutant General Corbin, it may be stated positively that General Merritt will go to the Philippines.

ADMIRAL PICKING DEAD.

Washington, Sept. 8.—A telegram received at the navy department announces the sudden death this morning of Rear Admiral Henry F. Pickens, commandant of the Boston navy yard. Death was due to heart disease.

HURRICANE IN WEST INDIES.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The weather bureau has issued the following special storm bulletin: "11:10 a. m.—Hurricane signal displayed at St. Kitts, W. I. Storm central east of that island, apparently moving northwest."

LAKE SCHOONER FOUNDERS.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—The schooner America, which for over half a century has sailed the lakes, foundered today thirty-five miles northeast of this harbor. The crew was taken off by a tug.

The L. A. to B. E. T. will on Saturday evening, Sept. 9, at 7:30, in the B. R. L. hall, hold a special meeting.

Children of the Free Methodist Sunday school went to Swinney park this afternoon in a special car and held a picnic in the grove.

IT STARTED AT THE BOTTOM.

WHEAT ALMOST TOUCHED THE PUT PRICES.

Slight Rally Followed the Decline—

Trading Mainly Professional—
Other Markets.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Wheat came near touching put figures at the opening today. December started at 71½¢ to 71¾¢, a decline of ¼¢ to ¾¢. The price soon touched 71¢ to 71½¢ under a moderate liquidation and showed little buoyancy when the pressure was removed. The sustaining influence in the coarse grain market of the past few days—hot dry weather—and which indirectly affected wheat, was removed today, and the news more directly affecting wheat favored sellers.

Argentine shipments were large, as were northwest receipts, and the weather in the northwest was perfect for the movement. Liverpool was slightly lower, and reported a poor spot demand, with large receipts at Russian ports. Late cables showed more firmness, but this market did not respond. September was steadier than the deferred futures and the spread narrowed somewhat in consequence. Minneapolis and Duluth receipts were 821 cars, against 565 last week and 844 a year ago. Chicago receipts were 91 cars, 2 of contract grade. The market was a narrow one, little interest being shown except by professionals, and price changes were small and infrequent. December reacted to 71½¢ and held around that price.

Corn was fairly active and easier. Rains were reported throughout the corn belt, with much cooler weather, and longs sold freely on this account. Receipts were 690 cars. The demand was slow. December opened ½¢ lower at 28½¢ to 28¾¢ and held around that price.

Oats were quiet and easier with corn, with some liquidation in both December and September. Shorts were good buyers of the latter and the price showed a slight advance at one time. Receipts were 323 cars. December opened unchanged at 20½¢ and declined to 20¼¢ to 20½¢. September sold at 21½¢ and reacted later to 21¼¢ to 21½¢.

Provisions were a little easier all around. The demand was slow and there was some inclination to realize at the recent advance.

October pork opened a shade lower at $8.20, eased off to $8.17½ and reacted to $8.20.

October lard opened 2½¢ lower at $5.32½.

October ribs opened unchanged at $5.35 and sold at $5.32½, reacting to the opening price.

THE CLOSURE.

Prices at the close were as follows: Wheat—Sept., 70¾¢; Dec., 71¼¢ to 71½¢; May, 74¼¢ to 74½¢.

Corn—Sept., 31½¢ to 31¾¢; Oct., 30¾¢; Dec., 28½¢; May, 29½¢.

Oats—Sept., 21½¢; Dec., 20¾¢ to 20½¢; May, 22½¢ to 22¾¢.

Pork—Sept., $8.00; Oct., $8.07½; Dec., $8.20; Jan., $8.50.

Lard—Sept., $5.25; Oct., $5.27½; Dec., $5.35 to $5.37½; Jan., $5.45.

Ribs—Sept., $5.25; Oct., $5.27½ to $5.30; Dec., $4.95; Jan., $4.97½ to $5.00.

Flax—Cash N. W., $1.16; Cash S. W., $1.14; Sept., $1.09; Oct., $1.07½; Dec., $1.07½.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Estimated receipts of hogs today, 16,000; tomorrow, 10,000; left over, 3,160. Market generally strong. Mixed and butchers, $4.30 to $4.70; good heavy, $4.45 to $4.65; rough heavy, $4.15 to $4.30; light, $4.35 to $4.72½.

Cattle—Receipts, 1,000. Market steady. Beef, $4.50 to $5.50; cows and heifers, $1.75 to $5.40; Texas steers, $3.60 to $4.25; stockers and feeders, $3.00 to $5.00; westerns, $4.00 to $5.40.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 8.—The depression in London on preparations for war was reflected at the opening hour. Losses of railroads were within fractional limits, except in the cases of Kansas and Texas preferred, which fell 1½¢, and Norfolk and Western preferred 1 point. Among the specialties Colorado Fuel lost 1½¢, Republic Steel 1½¢ and Manhattan and Continental Tobacco preferred a point. American Hoop and Republic Steel preferred were isolated instances of firmness.

Large buying orders for the prominent specialties, Sugar, Brooklyn Transit, Tennessee Coal, Colorado Fuel, Federal Steel and Republic Steel lifted them 1 to 1½¢ and Consolidated Gas 4 points. Railway stocks averaged ½¢ up, except for Kansas and Texas preferred, which regained its opening loss. A few properties failed to share in the rise. Trading became very dull toward the close of the first hour, but the improved level was sustained.

Speculation became more active and broader at the expense of values, the entire list dropping to the lowest. Declines reached a point in numerous instances, Omaha losing 5 and American Tobacco, Consolidated

Gas, Fort Worth and Rio Grande and Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis preferred 2 each. At the low range covering orders were executed, which steadied some stocks, but the general market was not much relieved.

Sales of stocks to noon, 251,029 shares.

Price changes of bonds were slightly mixed. There was a yielding tendency in most cases.

The July statement of earnings of Pacific Mail, showing a decrease, was the signal for a raid by the bears, which dropped the price nearly 4 points, with a subsequent rally. Preferred preferred, Hocking Valley Leather and National Steel lost from 1½¢ to 1¾¢. The general market was very dull and little affected. Tennessee Coal and Manhattan made a fresh advance to top figures in the late dealings with but little effect on the general list.

The closing was rather dull and irregular at mixed net changes.

NEW YORK PRODUCE.

New York, Sept. 8.—Butter—Receipts, 2,957 pkgs; market firm; western creamery, 17¢ to 22¢; June creamery, 18¢ to 21¢; factory, 13¢ to 18½¢.

Cheese—Receipts, 5,214 pkgs; market strong; large white, 11¼¢ to 11½¢; small white, 11¼¢ to 11½¢; large colored, 11¼¢; small colored, 11¼¢ to 11½¢.

Eggs—Receipts, 5,954 pkgs; market firm; western candle extras at mark, 13¢ to 16¢.

Sugar—Raw, quiet; refined, irregular.

Coffee—Dull.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Sept. 8.—Money on call firm at 4½¢ to 5 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4½¢ to 5 per cent; sterling exchange weak with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86 to $4.86½ for demand and at $4.83 to $4.83½ for 60 days; posted rates, $4.84 to $4.87½; commercial bills, $4.82; silver certificates, 59¢ to 59½¢; bar silver, 59¢; Mexican dollars, 47½¢.

THE BOND MARKET.

New York, Sept. 8.—Government bonds steady: U. S. 2s registered, 100½¢; U. S. 3s registered, 108½¢; U. S. 3s coupon, 108½¢; U. S. 4s registered (new), 130½¢; U. S. 4s coupon (new), 130½¢; U. S. 4s registered (old), 111½¢; U. S. 4s coupon (old), 111½¢; U. S. 5s registered, 111½¢; U. S. 5s coupon, 111½¢.

KILLS MAN WITH FIST BLOW.

Wabash, Ind., Sept. 8.—About midnight Wednesday night Walter Records struck George Miller, a cigar-maker, and knocked him down. Miller was picked up some time afterward and it was discovered that he had an ugly Y-shaped wound in the back of his head and a fracture of the skull. He was taken to the city hall and died in about twenty minutes. The police found Records in bed at the Sherman house and lodged him in jail. He claims that he used only his fist in striking Miller. Records yesterday afternoon waived preliminary examination and was remanded to jail by Justice Tyler, without bail.

NO REVOLUTION IN VENEZUELA.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Neither the state department nor the navy department has had further advice from any official source regarding the impending revolution in Venezuela. The advice received at the Venezuelan legation here contradicting the reports of the threatened trouble in Venezuela have been communicated to the two departments, but the Detroit, meanwhile, has sailed, and, going direct to La Guayana, there will be no opportunity to intercept her even if it were regarded as expedient to do so.

REMAINS OF IVES ARRIVE.

New York, Sept. 8.—Among the passengers who arrived today on board the Ward line steamer Segurana from Havana and Mexican ports were General Canton and staff, of the Mexican army. The general is governor of Yucatan. The Segurana also brought the body of Frank C. Ives, the billiard expert, who died recently in Mexico.

NOTRE DAME'S YEAR OPENED.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 8.—The scholastic year at Notre Dame university opened yesterday under the most favorable circumstances. There will be at least 200 more students than last fall. Corby hall is the name of a new dormitory thrown open to undergraduates. Among the new buildings is a large brick structure that is to serve the purpose of steamhouse and electric plant and a cold-storage plant.

A GREAT STORY.

No one should miss the great story, "In His Steps—What Would Jesus Do?" by Charles M. Sheldon, the opening chapters of which will be published in The Sentinel Thursday, September 14. It is said that more than 3,000,000 copies of this powerful story have been sold since its appearance a short time ago. No literary work has exerted such a powerful influence in directing public thought to the achievement of higher and better things since Harriet Beecher Stowe gave to the world her immortal "Uncle Tom's Cabin." "In His Steps" has a lesson for the poorest laborer and another for the capitalist; one for the most devout and sincere Christian and another for the poor sot who exists in the gutter. It is a story which shows how the world may be made better, how wrong may be triumphed over, how justice may assume full sway. Do not miss the opening chapters. The story will be printed serially in The Sentinel. Watch for it.

SIX ARE SERIOUSLY INJURED.

TROLLEY CAR COLLISION IN CLEVELAND.

Wet Rails Placed Car Beyond Control and It Dashed Into One in Front of It.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 8.—As a result of a collision between two electric cars on Ontario street early this morning six persons were seriously injured, as follows:

Chris. Scheupbach, 131 Arlington street, both legs crushed.

M. A. Weber, 141 Osborn street, right arm injured.

Miss Nora Scanlon, 441 Woodland avenue, legs injured.

Noble Hotchkiss, 1246 Slater avenue, both legs crushed.

J. W. Miller, 426 Quincy street, right leg fractured.

A Woodland avenue car had stopped to take on passengers, when a Jennings avenue car came up rapidly behind it. On account of wet rails the speed of the latter could not be checked and it crashed into the Woodland car with terrific force. Both cars were badly wrecked.

SONS OF VETERANS.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 8.—Commander-in-chief Shepard, of the Sons of Veterans, in his report to the eighteenth annual encampment of the order today, made an important recommendation about the society's badges and decorations. Major A. B. Davis, of Pittsburg, up to his death, a few months ago, furnished all badges and regalia to the society. Commander Shepard recommends that the order now manufacture its own badges and sell them at a profit for its own benefit. Quartermaster General Bolton's report showed the order in good condition financially with $2,000 in the treasury. The membership has fallen off about 1,000 in the past year, according to Adjutant General Abbott's report, and he ascribes this to the fact that so many of the young men from whom the order's membership would come have enlisted in the army. The report shows a total membership of 28,000, scattered among 1,200 branches. The order has decided to present to each of its members who served in either the Spanish or Philippine war, a badge of honor, manufactured of a Spanish cannon, which has been promised for that purpose by Secretary of War Root.

BULLETS IN SHAM BATTLE.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 8.—Some real bullets were used in the sham battle in the Pains spectacle, "The Battle of San Juan," at the state fair grounds last night. Results: Charles Krag, aged ten years, a spectator, killed; Rev. J. Smithson, private of company F, Fourth Ohio, engaged in the sham battle, fatally wounded; Max Guggenheim, merchant, a spectator, seriously wounded. A bullet was extracted from Guggenheim's wound and the wounds in the other cases appear also to have been made by bullets. It is supposed loaded shells were accidentally mixed with blanks furnished the soldiers in the sham battle, though it is claimed all ammunition was carefully inspected.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Word comes to the city today of the horrible death of Mrs. Cline, who lives just across the Allen county line in DeKalb county. The woman drove to Auburn yesterday and at 2 o'clock this morning the horse she was driving came home with only the front wheels of the buggy. A search was made for the woman and she was found near a crossing of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad stone dead. Her body was standing on its head against a fence, the ribs and legs broken and a post broken off where she had struck it. The woman was about 40 years old.

DELEGATES TO AMERICA.

Plymouth, England, Sept. 8.—The Trades Union congress in session here has elected J. Haslam, of the Derbyshire Miners' association, and A. Wilkie, of the Shipwrights' association, of Newcastle, delegates to the Trades Union congress to be held at Detroit, Mich.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 8.—A heavy electrical storm swept over this vicinity yesterday afternoon. At Warratah lightning struck a barn, killing W. L. Thomas and a man named Simpson. Two others were knocked down by the bolt and seriously burned.

TALKED OF PHILIPPINES.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The cabinet meeting today was devoted almost entirely to a discussion of the local governments which will be established in the Philippines on the cessation of hostilities. Secretary Root has given the matter much thought and his views as expressed at the meeting today were received with approval by all of the members present.

WALTHER LEAGUE DAY.

The several Walther leagues of the city are uniting in an excursion to Robison park today, and while the threatening weather has in a measure interfered with the attendance, a fairly good crowd is enjoying the day there. The evening attendance promises to be excellent, as the City band will render a concert from 7 to 10 o'clock.

DINED OLYMPIA'S MEN.

Gibraltar, Sept. 8.—Major General F. G. Slade, the officer commanding the royal artillery here, and the other artillery officers stationed at this post, yesterday entertained the officers of the United States cruiser Olympia at dinner. The usual toasts were drunk and it was altogether a brilliant affair. Admiral Dewey was not present.

THRASHED IN HIS BED.

Laporte, Ind., Sept. 8.—Advices from Bremen say that a sensational suit for damages will be brought by John Berger, Jr., living near that place, against Edward Hepler, also a resident of that locality. Hepler, who is a young married man, had heard stories concerning himself, alleged to have been circulated by Berger. He became enraged at the reports in circulation and started to find Berger. He went to the latter's house and was told that Berger had gone to bed. He made his way to his room and, without warning, assaulted him. Berger was dragged to the floor and in falling his shoulder was dislocated and he was otherwise seriously injured. Berger has retained attorneys, and, it is said, action will be brought for $10,000.

SHE ELOPED ON A TANDEM.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 8. J. J. Pincot, a merchant living in the Dorchester district, today reported to the police that his daughter, Nellie, eighteen years old, and $85 had disappeared. Nellie had developed a fondness for bicycling and spent her evenings riding through the parks with young men. Her mother would not permit her staying out late at night, and so when repumanded two days ago she scowled and acted sulky. This morning a long ladder—too heavy for the girl to lift—was found leaning against the window of the chamber in which Nellie had retired last night. The police believe the girl eloped on a tandem with some bicyclist.

A CHAPTER OF SALADS

Nothing is more refreshing than a crisp, delicious salad. Lettuce is always acceptable, but it is now a trifle scarce, and other salads can be substituted for it. Fruit salads are in order, and they can be varied daily. The fruit should be peeled—pears, peaches, bananas or apples—and kept very cold until time to serve. It can be served with either a French or mayonnaise dressing, and garnished with lettuce leaves, watercress or fruit leaves. New apples are in market, and they constitute a savory salad. They can be served plain or mixed, with onions, English walnuts or celery. For the onion and apple allow one onion to three acid apples. Slice both apples and onions, and season with French dressing. For English walnuts and apples, have two cupfuls each of nuts and sliced apples. Use mayonnaise dressing. One and a half cupfuls each of sliced apples, celery and boiled chestnuts make an unusual and delicious salad, served with a cooked dressing made of one-fourth of a cupful of butter, one-half teaspoonful of mustard, one saltspoonful of paprika, yolks of two eggs, one-fourth of a cupful of vinegar, one-half pint of cream. Cream the butter, add the seasoning, the beaten yolks of the eggs and the vinegar, which must be hot, then cook over boiling water until thick, stirring often. Whip the cream and add it to the cold dressing just before serving.

An appetizing salad is made of well washed hearts of celery cut into thin shreds about three inches long. Let them remain in iced water for two or three hours before using, then drain and season them with salad oil, tarragon and chills vinegar, a little salt and red pepper, chopped parsley and eschalot. Garnish with tomatoes and lettuce.

String Bean Salad—Select small, tender beans of uniform size. Wash and place in cold water and string. Then cook in boiling salted water, uncovered, rapidly for fifteen minutes. When they are tender turn out into a colander and rinse in cold water. Let them dry and put into the ice chest until ready. Macerate them with a French dressing. Place on a bed of lettuce leaves and watercress.

Spanish salad is appetizing and it is especially acceptable served with cold joints. Slice very thin a large white Spanish onion and a cucumber, remove the seeds from three or four tomatoes and cut them into small pieces, and after removing the skin from a long red pepper cut it into pieces. Arrange these ingredients in separate layers. Serve with a French dressing.

Both okra and sweet peppers are now in their prime. Cut the ends and stalks from some tender, stringless okras, cook in boiling salted water and drain thoroughly. Place some sweet peppers into hot fat, peel off the skins and cut in dice. Add to the okras and cover with mayonnaise dressing.

A popular salad among the English

TRANSVAAL'S FIGHTING MAN.

GENERAL JOUBERT IS A VERY SKILLFUL SOLDIER.

Is the Greatest Warrior in South Africa and Has Love of Gun-powder—An Anecdote.

Gen. P. J. Joubert is the most celebrated fighter in South Africa. He is the commander in chief of the Boer army, and is looked on as the country's savior in the event of war being declared by the English. The general is 68 years old now, and scarred from many a wound from English bullet and native assaig. Yet he is sturdy of frame and keen of eye, and withal crafty as a North American Indian. He led the Boers at Majuba Hill, where 280 English gave up their lives, General Joubert losing but five men. He beat the English at Laings Nek, commanded the forces at Bronkhorst and Spruit, and finally caught Jameson like a rat in a trap through quick mobilization of troops and superior marksmanship.

He fought in the native wars when Paul Kruger was commander, and these two became bosom friends, though they have grown apart somewhat in recent years. They and one other Boer were selected to conduct the affairs of the Transvaal when it was in rebellion against England in 1881, and General Joubert has several times come within a few votes of beating Oom Paul for the presidency. He will probably be the next to assume that position, as he holds different views from Kruger. He believes that if the Uitlanders were given the franchise, in a reasonable time they would become good citizens, and that this is the way to solve the problem. At the same time he will not sanction any sort of a revolt, and when the Jameson raiders were landed safely in Pretoria jail he was one who favored shooting them.

An anecdote is told of the general in this connection which shows Oom Paul's diplomatic powers. They stand out in distinct contrast to Joubert, who is essentially a lover of powder.

Ten thousand Boers were gathered about the jail, speculating as to the fate of the prisoners. Some were for instant death, and others, as a grim joke, suggested cutting off their ears. This was taken up by the press immediately, and in a few hours the world was shuddering at the bloodthirstiness of the Transvaal burghers. In the meantime the question was being settled by Oom Paul, who was trying to save the lives of the prisoners, and to this end used every art of persuasion with Joubert, the two being closeted a whole night.

Oom Paul finally prevailed, and Joubert went out before the assembly to win them over to the lenient position. This was his speech: "Fellow-burghers, if you had a beautiful flock of sheep and a neighbor's dogs got into the pasture and killed them, what would you do? Would you take your rifle and straightway proceed to shoot the dogs, thus making yourself liable to greater damage than the value of the sheep destroyed, or would you lay hold on those dogs and carry them to your neighbor, saying, 'Now, here's your dogs. I caught them in the act. Pay me and they shall be returned.'" The general waited a moment and then added: "We have the neighbor's dogs in jail. What shall we do with them?" There was hardly a voice dissented against returning the prisoners to the English, and events proved how wise the Boers had been.

Joubert can collect his whole army in forty-eight hours, a speedier mobilization than any other nation can boast of. He has divided the Transvaal into seventeen divisions, each under a commander. They are subdivided into sections, commanded by field cornets and assistant field cornets. When the tocsin is sounded the officers ride from one farm to another until the whole country is warned. The Boer has rifle and ammunition ready, and a piece of "biltong" or dried beef, on which he can subsist for two weeks. He jumps on his horse and hurries to the gathering place, leaving the women to farm and herd the cattle.

The members of the Southwick club will give a reception to Mrs. Ormsby and her pupils on Thursday evening, September 14th, in Kimball hall. Professor Southwick will give his reading in Kimball hall on Wednesday evening, September 20th, under the auspices of the club. The sale of tickets for the reading has been very large and it is thought that the accommodation of Kimball hall will not be sufficient for the attendance, and the Princess rink may be secured for the entertainment.

BASS WORKS BUSY

EVERY DEPARTMENT CROWDED WITH ORDERS.

REVIVES AIR BRAKE SCHOOLS

CAPT. H. M. DIEHL AGAIN A PRECEPTOR.

EXCURSION SEASON NEAR END

NEXT SUNDAY THE LAST TO PUT-IN-BAY.

The greatest activity in its history characterizes the present situation at the Bass works, both in the line of foundry products and in machinery output. The firm has just closed three important shipments of machinery, viz: to Binnewater, N. Y., to Willoughby, Ohio, and to Cleveland, Ohio, and is now engaged upon an extensive shipment of machinery for a steam plant to Beaver Falls, Pa. Every day there are big shipments of car wheels, but these are so common nowadays that little note is taken of them. The company yesterday booked two good orders for products of its boiler shop. One was for a boiler for Charles Higley & Son, of Reading, Mich., and the other for a 200-horse power heater for the International Phosphate company, of Carteret, N. Y. The car wheel foundry is adequate to the demand and carpenters have about completed an addition to it which will enable that department to increase its output about 150 wheels per day. The material for an addition, 60x100 feet, to the blacksmith shop is arriving on the ground and work upon the foundation for that structure will probably begin one week from Monday. There is still more or less delay in the receipt of iron and steel at the works, but there is an improvement over the conditions that existed a few months ago and a few weeks more will probably see the end of the shortage in that line.

END IS IN SIGHT.

The end of the Sunday excursion season is not distant and the citizen who anticipates a cheap trip to Chicago or Toledo must get a "move on" or wait until next year. Next Sunday will be the last day upon which special rates will be made to Put-in-Bay. The dollar rate to Toledo will continue until the close of the baseball season, which will be in three or four weeks. The rate to Chicago is liable to abolishment at any time, though the order may not come for several weeks.

AIR BRAKE CAR LEAVES.

Captain H. M. Diehl left at noon today on the air brake car upon a trip that will probably include the entire northwestern system of the Pennsylvania lines and possibly consume three months. The captain will hold "schools" at all places where a considerable number of railway men are located, instructing them in the use and the care of the Westinghouse air brake. The car has been thoroughly overhauled and several additions have been added to its equipment, making it an "up to date" instruction car. A desk, blackboard and sixteen seats along the side of the car, arranged so they can be dropped out of the way, an easy chair for the captain and matting down the aisles are conveniences that were lacking when the car was last out upon an educational tour. This is one of the best equipped air brake cars in the world. Down its center is a row of seven air brakes, such as are in daily use in the train service, while at the end is all the equipment of a locomotive cab so far as it applies to air brakes. The three valves represent the three styles of air brake valves in use—from the first in service to the latest improvement. There is also a skeleton valve for showing the modus operandi. Captain Diehl will make his first stop at Toledo. He will probably spend the Sundays at home.

THE "MUNCIE'S" NEW LINE.

The through Cincinnati - Fort Wayne freight line recently established by the Lake Erie and Western and the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton roads seems to fill a want in shipping circles. The southbound train, leaving this city at 4:20 in the afternoon, arrives in the Queen City the following morning. The northbound train leaves Cincinnati in the evening and reaches Fort Wayne at 9:30 the following day.

EXCURSION RATES.

The Central Passenger association has authorized excursion rates for those attending the following meetings:

Friends Society at Barnesville, Ohio, Sept. 19-30.
Friends Society at Richmond, Ind., Sept. 26 to Oct. 5.
Ohio Baptists' association at Cincinnati Oct. 23-26.

TWO MORE NEW ENGINES.

Two more compound engines were received by the Wabash this morning. No. 659 is a Baldwin, four cylinder passenger engine, after the pattern of the others described yesterday. No. 757 is a Richmond compound freight engine.

FIREMAN HURT.

William A. Gallentine, a Pittsburg fireman, is confined to his home, 258 Clinton street, with injuries received at Clark, Ind., yesterday afternoon. He fell off his engine, badly spraining his right knee. Dr. G. C. Steimen is the attending surgeon.

SHORT ON ENGINES.

The situation at the east yards of the Pittsburg was thus briefly stated this morning by one of the employees: "Lots of freight and no engines to move it." This man seems to have described the conditions of other roads also, for there is general complaint of shortage in power and cars. It is all the more remarkable because it comes at a time when lake navigation is at its height.

HIS FOOT MASHED.

August Bailey, employed in the Pittsburg planing mills, had his right ankle and foot badly injured by a plank falling upon them this morning. Some of the bones of the instep were broken and the injury is of a character that will disable the unfortunate man several weeks.

A TOTAL WRECK.

James Wouff left last night for New York, from whence he will sail for Ireland next Monday. The young man came here to live with his sister last spring and took a position in the Pittsburg shops. During the hot weather last June he suffered a stroke, from which he will never recover, and he now returns to his native country a physical and mental wreck. He was a bright young fellow, possessing pleasing address, and soon became quite a favorite among the shopmen. The Pennsylvania company kindly furnished him with transportation to Ireland.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Nickel Plate engine 20 has gone to Stony Island for light repairs.

Calvin Beam has taken a position in the Pittsburg machine shop.

Pittsburg Firemen Agenter and E. L. Tinney are taking a vacation.

Jack Bailey is acting foreman at the Wabash blacksmith shop, vice Daniel Campbell, who is ill.

The Columbus and Hocking Valley is making plans for the extension of the river division to Gallipolis.

David King, of Chicago, was the guest of Fort Wayne friends yesterday. He is a Pennsylvania employee.

Chief Clerk James Castle, of the night force of the east yards of the Pennsylvania company, is enjoying a vacation.

John Meyers, a boilermaker, left this morning for Delray, Mich., where he will remain permanently. He is a Wabash employee.

A car in Pennsylvania train No. 91 broke down upon the Arcola siding, causing two other cars to jump the rails. The wreck crew was called out at noon.

Daniel Campbell, foreman of the Wabash blacksmith shop, is sorely afflicted with stomach troubles. He was about to take a vacation when overcome by illness.

Yesterday the Fort Wayne Electric company shipped an 8,000-light dynamo to Wheeling, W. Va. This is one of the largest single phase dynamo ever made.

J. C. Hyde has been appointed chief train dispatcher of the Pittsburg division of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg, which opened for business into Pittsburg on Monday.

The local freight agents held their semi-monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at the Union Line office.

Agent J. J. Flynn, of the Lake Shore, met with them for the first time.

Harry Campbell, of Chicago, is visiting his Fort Wayne friends. He is now an employee of the Northwestern road. Twenty-two years ago he was employed in the Fort Wayne shops.

It is said that the bondholders of the Toledo, St. Louis and Kansas City have tired of litigation and are now anxious that the property be reorganized at as early a date as possible.

Brakeman Rosenberry, of the Nickel Plate, is taking a vacation and his place on the road is being filled by Brakeman W. O. Miller. Brakeman C. Bitner is also enjoying a vacation.

Yardmaster S. A. Grable, of the Nickel Plate, had the main portion of his dwelling house at 152 West Main street torn down and will replace it with a handsome modern structure.

George Guidore, James E. Quinn, C. F. Merriett and C. Titus, Nickel Plate engineers, are taking a few days' rest. Fireman E. Litchfield, of the same road, is detained at home by sickness in his family.

The next meeting of the Central Passenger association will be held in Chicago Sept. 13, when the alleged deal of the Nickel Plate and the "Three I's" with a certain Chicago scalper will be investigated.

N. B. Adriance has been appointed commercial freight agent of the Wabash, with headquarters at Denver, one of the two new positions in the traffic department of that company recently created by Vice President Ramsey.

It is said that the Norfolk and Western is to secure the Columbus, Lima and Milwaukee, now in course of construction, also that part of the Detroit, Lima and Milwaukee south of Lima, and that the branch from

St. Mary's to Peoria will be built into Columbus to connect with the Norfolk and Western.

Patrick H. Walsh is a new employee at the Bass boiler shop, he commencing work there this morning.

Charles Nahrwald, of the Bass boiler shop, was summoned to Michigan last night to see his daughter, who is very ill.

George Haverly, who was hurt, and John F. Szink, who was sick, reported for duty at the Pittsburg blacksmith shop this morning.

Harry Mills and Charles Wright, two Wabash shopmen, are driving overland to Battle Creek, Mich., stopping to hunt and fish en route. A letter written at Union, Mich., yesterday states that they are having a fine time.

Blacksmith Samuel McAfee resumed his duties at the forge this morning, after a ten days' visit with friends in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. His wife and children, who had been absent several weeks, accompanied Mr. McAfee home.

The Indiana, Illinois and Iowa has decided upon the erection of a bridge across the Illinois river at Marquette, which will be the longest and most costly in the state of Illinois. It will be nearly a mile in length and its estimated cost is $1,000,000.

Henry Jacobs, notice of whose illness was made a day or two ago, is in a serious condition, being afflicted with typhoid symptoms. Mr. Jacobs is employed in the Pittsburg planing mills. John Richey, of the same shop, is also on the sick list.

Master Car Builder J. A. Graham, of the Pittsburg, is suffering from an attack of indigestion and has been confined to him home for the past two days. The attack is not considered serious, however, and is expected to pass away in a day or two.

R. J. O'Neil, a Wabash fireman, who was employed in the yards in this city for some time, has been promoted to the passenger service and will have a run through this city with Engineer Grady. Fireman Wing, of Peru, will take the place on the switch engine.

Walter A. Bowden, the well known telegrapher, is taking a couple weeks lay off in accordance with the instructions of his physician. While not very ill, Mr. Bowden is threatened with a serious attack and absolute rest has been recommended as the only preventive.

WILL MAKE MOTOR CARRIAGES

AUTOMOBILES BUILT BY A FORT
WAYNE FACTORY.

Roach & Albanus Begin the Manufacture of the Horseless Carriage—One Nearly Ready.

Within a very short time the public will have the pleasure of viewing a horseless carriage of Fort Wayne manufacture, and a leading firm of carriage builders, Roach & Albanus will turn their attention to the construction of the automobile. This firm has been quietly working at the matter for some time, and at their factory on Clay street a sample carriage is nearing completion. It only awaits the installing of the motor power, which will be produced by a gasoline engine. It was the design of the builders that the first intimation of this new Fort Wayne industry should come to the public when the completed carriage was placed upon the streets, but the matter leaked out, and Mr. Roach now admits that they are preparing to begin the manufacture of the coming vehicle on a large scale.

The new carriage is to be a home production. It is the invention of a Fort Wayne gentleman whose name cannot be divulged for the present, and only Fort Wayne capital will be interested in its manufacture. The inventor is to be a partner in its production and he brings to the company two systems of power, one from gasoline and the other electric. For the present only the gasoline engine will be used. The carriage now nearly completed is mainly to demonstrate the utility of the plans, but great things are expected of it.

The later patterns are to carry two persons, and will be modeled somewhat after the pattern of a stanhope, with rubber cushion tires and ball bearings, and nearly all the mechanism will be concealed in the body of the vehicle. Roach & Albanus do not contemplate retirement from their established carriage business in any particular. The new departure is merely an addition to it.

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

The Rev. W. C. Bower has resigned the pastorate of the Christian church at Ashley and will spend the next two years in Butler university, at Indianapolis.

John Dyche, living near Wooster, Ohio, found his 15-year-old daughter at Kendallville, after a separation of eleven years. She went away with her mother when but 4 years old.

A. J. Paul, of Cass county, who shot and cremated seven hogs, fearing that they were possessed of the devil, has sent for a Chicago faith healer to minister to his wife, who is very ill.

A fire loss of $12,000 is reported at Angola, in the destruction of Jerome Morse's livery stable and contents, and John Nyce's carriage factory, with a number of vehicles of all kinds. Nyce, who lost $7,000, carried $2,000 insurance.

Rev. W. H. Wilson, of Des Moines, Iowa, has formally advised the board of trustees of the First Presbyterian church, Michigan City, of his acceptance of the call to the pastorate of the church. Mr. Wilson had been engaged to temporarily supply the pulpit. His family will come from Des Moines to Michigan City.

Charles M. Burroughs and Cordelia M. Toul were united in marriage in South Bend in June, 1896, Burroughs claiming Kankakee, Ill., as his home, while the bride hailed from Niles, Mich. Burroughs is now reported under arrest at Winona, Mich., the complainant being a man from Pennsylvania, who alleges that Burroughs married his daughter since the date in question. It is also alleged that he also married girls in Minnesota and Ohio.

Clemente Myers, superintendent of the Jay county infirmary, was arrested Wednesday on a grand jury indictment alleging cruel and inhuman treatment of inmates and failure to provide sufficient food and clothing. He gave bond. Some time ago the grand jury investigated the infirmary and protested against the superintendent serving wormy meat to the inmates. The county commissioners investigated and exonerated Myers. The arrest followed on an indictment.

Liberty Center, Wells county, is somewhat excited over a small tent show that struck the village this week. Wednesday night the usual program was being rendered, the first on the program being a song by the wife of one of the proprietors. About an hour after she had rendered her solo one of the employees hurried after Dr. Gehlert and the show now has a new attraction—a big girl baby. The show is still at Liberty Center, and expects to draw larger crowds than ever on account of the new actress.

Columbia City Post: "While Rudolph Helblig was at work Thursday morning on the new house he is constructing for J. H. Clark, in Union township, he was bitten in the left thumb by a rattlesnake. It was early in the morning and Mr. Helblig was picking up some building material when he was struck by the poisonous reptile. He soon secured his release and the sly intruder made good his escape. Rudolph at once secured some string and bound it about the thumb so closely that the circulation of blood was shut off, and he then drove to this city at a more rapid gait than usual. He went to the office of Dr. O. V. Schuman, who lanced the poisoned part and allowed all the bad blood to escape. The doctor then recommended the usual remedy for such cases and the patient repaired to his home, just east of the city, and will probably experience little trouble from the bite."

GEM LUNCH BOX.

ENJOY YOUR DINNER.

Before this box was for sale the salesman, laborer or mechanic carried a dinner pail and had to do it or risk an uncertain lunch. The food was likely to be mixed up by reason of the insecure packing afforded.

Now you take this handsome Gem Folding Dinner Box, trimmed with leather and made to stand for years of wear. In the bottom are sandwiches, eggs, pickles and appetizers. They can't damage each other. On top of these is a snug fitting tray holding the dessert and a receptacle for coffee or milk. The edibles cannot scatter. They stay just where you put them.

After dinner is disposed of, the box is folded in less than a minute and can easily be placed in a coat pocket, reduced from eight inches to one inch in height.

BOERS NEXT MOVE

BRITAIN SENDS A STRONGLY WORDED DISPATCH.

A COUNCIL OF THE CABINET

MINISTERS RETICENT AS TO THEIR ACTION.

NEWS FROM AFRICA WARLIKE

TEN THOUSAND SOLDIERS TO GO TO CAPE TOWN.

London, Sept. 8.—It is understood that the result of the cabinet meeting today established these facts: Parliament will not be summoned. The reserves will not be called out. Ten thousand troops will be sent to South Africa.

A representative of the Associated Press learns that a strongly worded dispatch has been sent to the Transvaal, which will be published here immediately on its delivery there.

THE CABINET COUNCIL.

London, Sept. 8.—The cabinet council here today attracted greater public interest than any meeting of the ministers for years past.

A well-dressed crowd of people cordially greeted the most prominent of the cabinet ministers and impatiently thronged the precincts of the foreign office throughout the session, eagerly scrutinizing the faces of those coming and going, in the hope of obtaining a glimpse of the outcome of the momentous event. The war spirit was evident on all sides and the generals were enthusiastically cheered as they appeared, the crowd evidently understanding that they had been summoned to be in readiness in the event of the ministers wishing their advice.

GREAT CROWD GATHERED.
A crowd of from 2,000 to 3,000 persons assembled at the Whitehall entrance to Downing street, where the foreign and colonial offices are situated, at an early hour today. Mr. Chamberlain, the secretary of state for the colonies, and the Earl of Selborne, the under secretary, were the first arrivals among the officials, and they were followed by Field Marshal Lord Wolseley, the commander-in-chief of the army; General Sir Redvers Bullcock, who, it is said, will have the field command in the event of war with the Transvaal, and General Sir Evelyn Wood, adjutant-general to the forces.

CHEERS FOR THE PREMIER.
The arrival of Lord Salisbury, the premier, was the signal for tremendous cheering. Next came the Duke of Devonshire, the Lord President of the council; Right Hon. Henry Chaplin, the president of the local government board, and the Earl of Halsbury, the lord high chancellor, who passed unnoticed. As showing the importance of the meeting of the council, Under Secretaries Wyndham, of the war department, and Broderick, of the foreign office, were summoned to attend.

By 1 o'clock all the cabinet ministers were present. It was reported that Mr. Balfour, the first lord of the treasury, would not agree with some of his colleagues in the cabinet and there was some talk of a split.

The first indication of the possible decision of the cabinet came from the stock exchange, where the tone recovered on the report that the ministers had decided not to send an ultimatum to the government of the Transvaal but to insist that the Transvaal must agree to a conference at Cape Town, but it is too early yet to pretend to give this as definite information of the action contemplated or taken.

MINISTERS JOYFUL.

The ministers came out arm in arm, laughing and chatting, greatly contrasting with the manner in which they went in. Lord Salisbury again received an ovation.

Although the foreign office has not given out a statement, the general impression was that no ultimatum would be sent to the Transvaal at present and that a time limit was placed for a conference at Cape Town.

The short duration of the council and the early departure of the military men summoned were taken as indications that the situation is more pacific, though, of course, this is only surmised.

A RAID FEARED.

London, Sept. 8.—The Times, in its second edition today, published a dispatch from Mafeking, which said: "Colonel Baden-Powell will review the troops at Ramathlabana tomorrow. Large numbers of Boers are moving about the border near there. There is uneasiness over the number of Transvaal Dutch here. It is feared they might join the invaders in case of a raid."

BRITISH TROOPS ACTIVE.
A special dispatch received here today from Ladysmith, Natal, says that the British troops there are actively engaged in maneuvers over the hilly country, subsequent to a parade of the forces.

Continuing, the dispatch says: "With the transportation and equipment the finest ever seen in South Africa and the health of the men excellent, everything is ready for war. All the advices confirm the presence of a large number of Boers on the border. They are described as being bellicose and it is rumored that they have completed arrangements to poison all pools and springs that might supply the invading force with water. Unrest is reported among the Natal natives and this, it is suspected, is due to Boer influences."

Many ship owners have called at the offices of the admiralty and offered their vessels as transports. They were told, however, that nothing would be done in this direction until the cabinet council decided on what action would be taken in regard to the crisis.

The Evening Standard today says: "The general feeling pervading the public departments and clubs is that hostilities are inevitable."

The correspondent of the Times at Newcastle, Natal, says:

"There would be little surprise here if the Boers assumed the aggressive immediately. It is a matter of astonishment that so few British troops are in the country, especially on the western border."

EXODUS FROM JOHANNESBURG.

Johannesburg, Sept. 8.—The anxiety here in regard to the crisis has been intensified by the tone of the debate in the raid.

The railroad offices continue to be besieged by those waiting to get out of the country.

ORDERED TO AFRICA.

Dombay, Sept. 8.—The Nineteenth hussars and the Twenty-first field battery of artillery have been ordered to leave Secunderabad for the Transvaal September 18.

INTENSE FEELING EXISTS.

Cape Town, Sept. 8.—The reports of the raid debate at Pretoria published here created intense feeling and the disparaging references to Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, imperial secretary of state for the colonies, and Sir Alfred Milner, governor of Cape Colony and British high commissioner in South Africa, are resented.

The feeling displayed by members of the raid surprised those who believed that a peaceful solution would be reached, and such a solution, in the opinion of many, has been rendered very difficult. In spite of a downpour of rain 1,500 workmen assembled last night and passed a resolution imploring a prompt termination by the imperial government of the present tension, "which is causing great distress, bringing the community face to face with bankruptcy, alienating the moderate element here and in the Transvaal and sapping British prestige."

The resolution also affirms unabated confidence in Sir Alfred Milner. The meeting, which was orderly, closed with cheers for Chamberlain, Milner and Rhodes, and with groans for Kruger and Schreiner.

STOCK MARKET DEPRESSED.

London, Sept. 8.—The stock market today opened weak and lower all around. Consols for money declined 5-16 and consols for the account 1/4. Rand mines were 1 1/4 below yesterday's closing prices. There was a slight recovery after the opening. Speculators were anxiously awaiting the decision of the cabinet council to be held today, fears being expressed that the ministers may decide on war. There are also apprehensions in regard to the political situation in France.

GENERAL BUTLER IN LONDON.

London, Sept. 8.—Sir William Francis Butler, who was recently relieved as commander of the British troops in South Africa, by Lieut. Gen. Sir Frederick Forester Walker, arrived in this city today. He reported at the war office and was consulted in regard to the situation in South Africa.

G. H. Wolf, of this city, a member of the 46th Reg. O. V. Z. I., has received notice to report for duty at Rockford, Ohio, on Sept. 19, the occasion being the annual reunion of that organization. Mr. Wolf expects to attend the reunion.

VERDICT IS NEAR

JUDGMENT ON DREYFUS TO BE GIVEN TOMORROW.

LABORI WILL NOT BE HEARD

MAITRE DEMANGE SPEAKS IN BEHALF OF DREYFUS.

RIPS THE PROSECUTION TO PIECES.

Rennes, Sept. 8.—The announcement was made this afternoon that the verdict of the court martial will be rendered tomorrow.

Maitre Labori foregoes the right to speak for the defense, lest by so doing he irritate the judges and destroy the good effect hoped for from the speech of M. Demange.

The court, therefore, will deliberate on the conclusion of M. Demange's speech and the judgment will probably be delivered before noon.

There is nearly a universal feeling this evening that Dreyfus will be condemned.

THE LAST DAY OF TRIAL.

Rennes, Sept. 8.—The hall of the Lycee was crowded this morning at the opening of the fifth day of the fifth week of the second trial by court-martial of Captain Alfred Dreyfus, of the artillery, charged with treason.

There was a large attendance of ladies and newspaper writers, who sat up all night in order to secure front places.

At an early hour a long line was formed of people awaiting admission. Standing room at the back of the court now commands fifteen and twenty francs for places, and the demand is increasing as the trial approaches its end.

BARON RUSSELL PRESENT.

Among the privileged witnesses today was Baron Russell, of Killowen, lord chief justice of England, who was conducted to a seat by General Chamois and M. Paleologue, of the French foreign office. The lord chief justice was seated at the back of the judges' table. He came here from Paris, where he has attended the sessions of the Anglo-Venezuelan boundary arbitration commission, in order to see something of the trial.

Maitre Demange at once opened his speech for the defense.

In eloquent terms and with impressive delivery he brought out strong evidence against Esterhazy. During the course of his remarks he cried:

"Do you think if Dreyfus and Esterhazy had been before the court-martial of 1894 that the court would have condemned Captain Dreyfus?"

As he asked this question counsel pointed to the prisoner sitting before him and added:

"No."

DREYFUS CHEERFUL.

Dreyfus today appeared cheerful. He smiled and shook hands with his counsel on entering the court.

The English chief justice followed the speech of M. Demange with the closest attention. The lawyer gave a very fine performance, so far as the audience was concerned. His voice was exquisitely modulated, sometimes soft and persuasive, and at other times sharply argumentative. Finally he filled the room with his stentorian tones, as he thundered with indignation at the charges against Dreyfus and the shameful weakness of the prosecution and in denunciation of Esterhazy.

ALL THE GENERALS ABSENT.

The gestures and features of M. Demange were equally expressive. The front rows of the chief witnesses' seats were empty except for the presence of M. Trarieux, the former minister of justice, and M. Cavaignac, former minister of war, all the generals and officers having left Rennes, by order of Minister of War General De Galliffet.

Colonel Picquart has also left Rennes, although he holds no rank in the army.

Dreyfus listened to the oration of M. Demange with a mask of impassibility resembling his frozen attitude during the first days of the trial. Whatever the prisoner's feelings, as he heard M. Demange's plea in his behalf, he carefully concealed them.

At 11 o'clock M. Demange was still speaking and he announced that he would need another two hours and a half to finish his plea, so the court adjourned until 7:30 tomorrow morning.

The general impression formed was that the speech of M. Demange must have had a certain effect on the judges. It was a strong effort, argumentatively.

It was generally noticed today that when M. Labori entered the court this morning he spoke to M. Demange in a deprecating tone and a sharp discussion ensued, almost bordering on a dispute.

The same thing occurred during the usual brief suspension of the sitting. The two lawyers, apparently, were at loggerheads about the best method of conducting the case, which, it was said, boded no good for Dreyfus.

A NOTORIOUS JEW-BAITER.
Great interest has been aroused here by the arrival at Rennes of Max Regis, the former mayor of Algiers and a notorious Jew-baiter. He was attended by a couple of Algerians in native costume and a crowd of people followed him about. He stopped to take some refreshment at the principal cafe here, and the place was immediately invaded by a gaping crowd. M. Regis was present in the court yard of the Lycee this morning and discussed the situation with the leading anti-Dreyfusards.

His presence is not a good omen for the peace of the town. The local papers today publish an open letter from M. Regis to the premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, declaring that he, M. Regis, intends to preserve the greatest calm, but adding that if an attempt is made to arrest him he will resist.

The local papers today publish an open letter from M. Regis to the premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, declaring that he, M. Regis, intends to preserve the greatest calm, but adding that if an attempt is made to arrest him he will resist.

MAITRE DEMANGE'S SPEECH.
A detailed report of the proceedings follows:

Amid intense silence and holding the keenest attention from the audience, Maitre Demange, shortly after the opening of the proceedings of the Dreyfus court martial today, arose to make the speech for the defense. His opening remarks seemed to meet with approval.

"However solemn the occasion may be," he declared, "I must at the outset protest with all my soul against the allegation which one of the witnesses did not shrink from uttering. This witness did not hesitate to declare that whoever advocated the revision of this case—that is to say, whoever believed in the innocence of Dreyfus—was working against the army and against the country. I here declare that he does not know me and that he does not know Maitre Labori. Neither M. Labori nor myself would be here if these statements were true. Let me tell you simply this:

A TEMPEST OF MADNESS.

"The day on which, amid the shock of furious political passions I saw let loose over our country this tempest of madness, when I saw everything I had learned to revere and love since childhood imperiled, I, a Frenchman, the son of a soldier, endured every torture. When I turned my eyes towards Devil's Island, where was buried alive one, who, from the bottom of my heart, I believe to be a martyr, I began to wonder if Divine justice had not abandoned him. Since then I have recovered. I have harkened to the voice of my conscience and have pursued an unswerving course, free from anger or passion, not heeding hatred or prejudice. I have done my duty. You will do yours, which is to mete out justice."

THE PRISONER'S POSITION.

Continuing, M. Demange said he wished to clearly define the prisoner's position, saying:

"When the case of the revision began, Dreyfus was a convict and serious presumptions of his innocence were necessary before the case could be taken up by the court of cassation. Today, it is for the public prosecutor to prove his guilt. Let no one blame us, therefore, if we have not proved the innocence of our client. The task was not incumbent upon us. It is for the government commissioner to show he is guilty of the abominable crime imputed to him."

NOT TRYING ESTERHAZY.

M. Demange then protested against the suggestion that it had been attempted to put Esterhazy on trial, explaining that all the defense desired was that the innocence of Dreyfus should appear, dazzling and complete, and that the court martial should proclaim it. Counsel was satisfied that the judges of 1894 were honest, like the present judges. But, if the former had seen Esterhazy's handwriting they would have pronounced a different verdict.

GOES INTO DETAILS.

Counsel then entered into details, dealing with the information collected regarding the prisoner in 1894. He said:

"The only real information is that found in the cries from his soul. Even before his conviction, what was his first cry?"

"I will not take my life, because I am innocent."

M. Demange dilated upon the prisoner's increasing protestations of innocence.

IS NOT DICTATOR

AGUINALDO PRESIDES OVER FILIPINO CONGRESS.

IN EXTRAORDINARY SESSION

THE REPRESENTATIVE BODY
MET AT TARLAC.

FOREIGNERS MUST REGISTER

THIS DECREE A SCHEME TO TAX
CHINAMEN.

Manila, Sept. 8.—6:50 p.m.—A Filipino who has arrived here from Tarlac says an extraordinary session of the revolutionary congress took place at Tarlac August 24. Aguinaldo presided and chose Mabini as president of the supreme court and Gonzaga as attorney general. They both represent the most conservative and temperate element. Mabini, who recently resigned the foreign secretaryship, is the ablest man connected with the revolution. Gonzaga was president of the last peace commission.

The proceedings of the congress disapproved the report that Aguinaldo had declared himself dictator.

A decree has been issued by the Filipinos compelling the registration of all foreigners in Filipino territory. The Chinese, who are a large fraction of the population, are considered foreigners, including those born in the Philippine Islands. Applications must be made on stamped paper, which figures largely in all the business of the insurrectionary government. This seems to be largely a scheme to tax the Chinese, largely a scheme to tax Chinese.

DIG FIRES IN LOUISVILLE.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 8.—Fire today destroyed the stove foundry of Bridgeford & Co., causing a loss of $200,000. Insurance, about $100,000. While going to the fire a salvage truck was overturned and Sam Reese, a fireman, was fatally injured. While the Bridgeford fire was in progress the plant of the Phoenix Tanning company, situated in another part of the city, was totally destroyed by fire owing to the lack of engines. Loss, $50,000. Fully insured. John Zehnder, a spectator, was caught under a falling wall and his skull was crushed. He will die.

GOLD STANDARD IN INDIA.

Simla, Sept. 8.—At yesterday's session of the India council, the viceroy, Baron Curzon, of Kedleston, concurring in the statement of Clinton Dawkins, the financial member, who, in introducing the currency bill, said that in the absence of the mint proclamation from England, it had been decided to make gold the legal tender immediately, in the conviction that no other measure would save India from disastrous embarrassment and fresh taxation, remarked that, thanks to the sagacity and common sense of the committee, the ability of the chairman, the strength of the case for the gold standard, and the remarkable consensus of opinion, a conclusion of the fiercely disputed matter had been reached. For twenty years the policy of the government had been the defence of India from the inevitable consequences of the decline in the value of the rupee, namely, fresh taxation. The adoption of a gold standard would enable India to embark in discussion with foreign powers and enter the field on equal terms. Since gold began to enter last year 2,620,000 pounds had arrived. A fixed value must lend stability and confidence to foreign trade. He did not indulge in chimerical dreams of the future or to pretend to open an Asiatic Klondike. He firmly believed and hoped the present action would invest the financial horoscope of India with the security which it had hitherto lacked and which it was the duty of the government to utilize in the interests of the Indian people.

GIRL IS CHAINED TO A PUMP.

Watertown, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Mabel Prindle, 16 years old, was chained by the neck to a pump in the yard of 21 Cedar street all of yesterday afternoon. Her father, Charles Prindle, had taken this means to punish her for going away from the house to spend the forenoon with her aunt. The neighbors gathered around the place and threatened to lynch Prindle if he didn't release her. In the evening, under orders from the police, he unlocked the chain from the pump and without removing it from the girl's neck led her into the house, paying no attention to the threats of the crowd. The girl lives alone with her father. Yesterday morning she went without permission to visit her aunt. Her father reported her disappearance to the police. Then he found her himself. He had forbidden her to visit her aunt and took her away by force.

GIRL IN COLLISION.

Bertha Baird, while riding her bicycle Thursday evening on Wells street, collided with a light wagon being driven by William Hochstetter. She was thrown to the ground and her body was quite badly bruised. The young lady's clothes were also badly torn.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Wasserbach—Funeral services of Charles S. Wasserbach will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 68 Oakley street, and will be under the direction of Concordia lodge No. 25, I. O. O. F.

Doeschner—Funeral services of Mary Josephine Doeschner will be held Saturday at 2 p. m., from the residence, 18 McLachlan street.

MORE SOLDIERS GO FORWARD.

LIEUTENANT ROWELL SWEARS
IN NEW RECRUITS.

Eleven Additional Young Men Leave
Fort Wayne for Various Commands—Who They Were.

Eleven additional recruits took the oath of Uncle Sam's military service at the Fort Wayne recruiting office this morning and are on their way to their several regiments. Lieutenant Rowell arrived from Indianapolis Thursday evening to administer the oath and assign the men. The soldiers and the regiments to which they go are as follows:

Forty-fifth Infantry, Fort Snelling, Minn.—Daniel S. Campbell, Angola; Glen Gardner, Wabash; Elbert S. Baker, Convoys, O.; Rodney Bolter, Convoys, O.; Arthur Judd, Fort Wayne.

Thirty-ninth Infantry, Fort Crook, Neb.—Burt A. Howard, Monroeville; Fred W. Ranney, Fort Wayne; Henry R. Pontius, Peru; Charles M. Hoyt, Danfco.

Eleventh Cavalry, Philippines—William A. Hunter, Chicago; Edward G. Hassert, Fort Wayne.

These men bring the total enlisted at the Fort Wayne office up to 113. Of these all save four have been for the volunteer service. There have been about eighty men rejected for physical defect.

DOZEN LIVES LOST.

Chillicothe, Mo., Sept. 8.—Reports which have been received here today from parts throughout the province and from the north, indicate that the heavy gale of Wednesday night was very disastrous to fishing and coasting craft. The storm appears to have been the most severe in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, from Cape Breton to Quebec. It is believed that at least a dozen lives were lost.

THE BOYS RELEASED.

Clyde Thomas and Archie Cummings, the boys arrested at Maysville for the alleged robbery of "Squire Eckels" home, were taken before the grand jury for examination Thursday. They were thoroughly questioned and other witnesses examined. The evidence was quite flimsy and the grand jury refused to indict the boys.

A FIRE AT BOWSER'S.

At 3:30 this afternoon an alarm of fire called the departments to S. F. Bowser's factory, which was in flames. The blaze was gotten under control after a few minutes' work by the department.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mossman returned today from an outing at Bear Lake, Mich.

Miss Agnes Arantz, of 447 Lafayette street, left for Huntington today to visit friends.

Charles Marks reported to the police that he lost a pocketbook containing $5.00 in money.

Miss Garnet Kuffer, of Warsaw, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. E. Pike, of 34 Walton avenue.

Mrs. Lancaster, a former resident of this city, has returned to her home in Chicago, after a pleasant visit with old Fort Wayne friends.

Mrs. J. H. Scovel, of 160 East Creighton avenue, and daughter, Mrs. F. H. Wender, of Toledo, Ohio, returned home last night after a brief visit with relatives and friends in Paulding county, Ohio.

COUNCIL DECIDES.

UNANIMOUS VOTE TO ISSUE 3 1/2
PER CENTS.

MR. HERBST WAS PRESENT

DR. GREENWELL FAVORED THE CHEAP BONDS.

THE COUNCIL'S WORK IS DONE

MAY BE CALLED TO MAKE A TEMPORARY LOAN.

The county council finished its deliberations this morning without any friction or division of opinion. Otto Herbst, the member who opposed the 3 1/2 per cent. bonds on Thursday, was not in attendance at the meeting, but Dr. Greenwell was there to help decide the bond question.

County Attorney S. L. Morris, in accordance with the instructions of the board, had prepared a copy of the proposed bonds bearing 3 1/2 per cent. interest and this bond was submitted with the ordinance, which was read for the third time as amended. When the vote was called it was unanimous, the following members recording themselves in favor of the 3 1/2 per cent. bond, Greenwell, Brandebury, Holloper and Chairman Brackbridge.

CITIZENS WERE PRESENT.

There were several citizens present, including H. C. Paul, D. N. Foster, Frank Alderman, Peter F. Polson and Elmer Leonard, chairman of the republican county central committee. There was no need for argument, however, as the members of the council expressed themselves as favorable to the cheaper bonds.

Alex. Seabreeze, representative of a Boston banking house, was present and advocated a 4 per cent. bonds, claiming that the money lenders would pay a premium which would bring a bigger revenue than 3 1/2 per cent. bonds. He said, too, that there was only one savings bank in the country that would buy county bonds and that was located in Maine.

AN OFFER FOR BONDS.

Henry C. Berghoff, city comptroller, said he believed the proper course to follow was to issue 3 1/2 per cent. bonds and offered to give $2,000 premium at once if the bonds were sold to him. This offer convinced the members of the council that the wise course to follow was to issue the lower interest bonds.

DEFICIT IN TREASURY.

Before adjournment County Commissioner Ferguson called the attention of the council to the fact that the county needed money for general purposes before the new levy could be enforced and suggested that the county treasurer be called upon for a statement. Mr. Ferguson said that in making his statement on Thursday Deputy Treasurer Beckman had figured a surplus of $32,000 at the end of the present year, but in making this surplus he had counted on $50,000 of the $200,000 borrowed for court house purposes going into the county funds. It developed that the $50,000 could not be used for county purposes and this meant that there would be a deficiency. The county attorney and the members of the council deemed it advisable to allow the deficit to be discussed at some future time and the council adjourned without hearing Mr. Beckman's statement. The figures, however, showed that there would be a deficit of about $10,000. Should the $200,000 borrowed for court house purposes be more than is needed the money can be placed in the county fund when the next appropriations are made. In the meantime should there be a scarcity of funds the commissioners must issue warrants and the auditor and treasurer need not honor them if there is no appropriation. The county attorney told The Sentinel that he would advise the treasurer that county warrants must not bear interest.

WANTED FOR MURDER.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 8.—Putnam Taylor, wanted in Chicago on a charge of killing a man on August 30, was arrested at Homestead, Pa., today. Taylor was located at Homestead through an intercepted letter sent to his wife in Chicago, in which he requested her to write him in the name of James H. Walker. When he called at the postoffice for the letter he was arrested.

Alice Jones, of Monroeville, reported to the police that a bundle of clothing which she had with her at the Berry street M. E. church during the teachers' institute had been stolen.

The Wheelings simply toyed with the Fort Waynes yesterday and after the first inning there was no doubt of the result. The Nailers landed on Brashear's curves with a vengeance, Dobbs smashing the first bull pitched for a two-base hit. Wienig relieved him and was more effective. When the smoke had cleared for the inning six runs had been counted. Parvin held the Hoosiers down and was almost perfectly supported. Belden and Hollingsworth did the best batting, but their hits didn't count for runs. The game was the one scheduled for today and this afternoon the game scheduled for tomorrow is being played. A GREAT GAME.

One of the most exciting games of the season will be played tomorrow afternoon at League park. The contestants will be members of Post E, T. F. A., of Lafayette, Ind., and a team picked from the members of Post A of this city. The teams will line up as follows: Post E—Joe Schultz, 3b; Ed L. Potlitz, cf and captain; Jule Truman, 2b; Ralph Clark, lf; Bert Taylor, rf; Ed H. Potlitz, 1b; Gust Truman, ss; Hal Rager, p; George Marsh, c; Charles Yellum and Joe Schilling, substitutes. Post A—M. Robinson, ss; O. Zimmer, 3b; Frank France, 2b; Abe Minsky, captain and 1b; John Hedges, lf; O. Wolf, cf; Charles Nathan, rf; John Coy, p; Charles Bales, c; John Watt and all other members of Post A are substitutes. The Lafayette traveling men entertained a crowd of 1,800 when the Logansport traveling men played in that city, and the Fort Wayne travelers hope to have a crowd almost as large.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Ewing lost another game yesterday and Guse now leads him in the race for pitching honors in the Interstate League.
"Cy" Swain is the proud papa of a baby girl and since Tuesday "Cy" has been at home rocking the little darling on his fatherly knee.
"Chic" Stahl has been moved up to the head of the Boston batting order and as a result yesterday lined out two hits, the only Boston batter to coral more than one bingle. Hamilton is batting in fourth place.
The game at Wheeling tomorrow will not count in the won and lost column. With the game today Wheeling and Fort Wayne have played twenty games with each other and that finished the championship race between the two teams.
The Fort Waynes will arrive home on Sunday at 11:05 a. m. and play a game in the afternoon with Mansfield. Miller and Guse will probably oppose each other. There is some talk of pitting "Cy" Swain against the Haymakers in two of the four games.
The Fort Wayne Shamrocks will leave for Ottawa, Ohio, over the Findlay at 7:05 tomorrow morning, where the team will play Saturday and Sunday. Ottawa's big carnival will open tomorrow and a ball game will be one of the attractions. One week from Sunday the Shamrocks will play in Marion.
The New Castle papers have not given up and still lay claim to the pennant. The papers in the Quaker city, however, admit that to win the championship the team must win four of the five games to be played with Mansfield. Almost anybody will admit that if New Castle wins four out of five from the Haymakers they will have a chance.

TEACHERS FINISH.

ALLEN COUNTY INSTITUTE COMES TO A CLOSE.

WORK IS COMPLETED AT NOON

ATTENDANCE HAS BEEN THE LARGEST EVER KNOWN.

MEETING WAS GREAT SUCCESS

TOWNSHIP INSTITUTES WILL NOW BE HELD.

At noon today the most successful county teachers' institute held in many years came to a close. The sessions at the Berry street M. E. church this week have been notable in many ways, and when the adjournment came today the teachers were practically a unit in the opinion that no more helpful institute had ever met in Allen county.

Credit for this is in a large measure due to the efforts of County Superintendent F. J. Young, who has labored most untiringly to bring the gathering to a high state of efficiency as a preparatory course for the teachers who are about to take up the school work of a new year. The instructors have been selected from among the leading educators of the county, and those who heard them will carry to their work a wealth of new ideas and a better comprehension on the subject treated. Another gratifying fact is that no previous institute shows so great an attendance. In the district schools of Allen county 180 teachers are employed. The enrollment shows that 170 of these were present at the institute. Teachers of the city schools were all in attendance, bringing the total number of teachers up to 330. Through all the sessions the closest interest was manifested, and not even the excessively warm weather which prevailed a part of the week dampened the ardor of the teachers in their pursuit after new ideas. It was in all respects a most helpful and successful gathering, and teachers and school officers alike are to be congratulated.

THE CLOSING SESSION.
The institute opened this morning with the singing of "America," and Rev. C. C. Cissel conducted the devotional service. Professor Adams took up the concluding lecture of his series on "Reading," and gave his hearers many practical points that will be of value in the teaching of this branch. It is evident that Mr. Adams believes that mind culture is of more importance in good reading than mere voice culture. A clear comprehension of the subject is necessary to the best work in this department, as in all others. Later, by special request, Professor Adams conducted a round table talk and repeated his callisthenic drill in the church parlors before a large class.

Miss Drake gave a vocal solo, which was charmingly rendered, and a hearty encore told how highly her number was appreciated. The music of the entire session has been exceptionally good.
CULTURE OF THE TEACHER.
Dr. Bryan's closing talk was upon "The Culture of the Teacher," and in it he pointed out the development needed to be effective in the profession of the educator. The teacher, as well as any other person, by following one line of work, is apt to become narrow and dogmatic. Man is made by his work, and it tends to make for him a prison of habits. We need to take vacations, see other scenes, note what others are doing, and get outside our own sphere. If travel is not possible, one can at least broaden his ideas by constantly going more deeply into his work. It will broaden his comprehension and make him better. The arch sin of the soul is petty things. Seek development. Strike higher. Occasionally a student who has attended some university leaves the institution with a larger stock of the kind of learning he had upon entering, but absolutely nothing that is new. There is a condition of growth in all things. Business conducted on lower lines is merely a trade. On a higher plane it becomes an art. Seek to broaden and to rise. We cannot always change our avocation, but we can at least make the very most out of the field we are in.

DR. ALEY CLOSING.
Dr. Aley's closing lecture was upon the subject of "The Reading Circle," and he dwelt most emphatically upon the importance of this aid to the pupil and the teacher. Above the door of one of the libraries of Egypt was inscribed, "The Medicine of the Mind." This, said Dr. Aley, is what the reading circles may be fittingly termed. No greater boon is given to humanity than that of good books, and no system of reading promises so excellent results as that of the systematic work of the reading circle. The teacher will find it invaluable in cultivating that broader knowledge urged by Dr. Bryn. Particular stress was placed upon the young peoples' reading circle as the medicine for the mind of the youth. The boys and girls should have the privileges that will place the best literature within their grasp, and the selection in this work has been made by those who are honest and capable. No known system of reading is so complete or so carefully selected.

FLAVIUS J. YOUNG,
Superintendent Allen County Public Schools.

lected with a view to giving the student all that is best in the literary field. Dr. Aley would have it universally used by both teacher and pupils.

In the closing moments of the session County Superintendent Young expressed his thanks to teachers and instructors for the splendid work that had been accomplished during the week, and made announcements for the various township institutes as heretofore printed in The Sentinel. Dr. Bryan and Dr. Aley took a train at noon for their homes at Blooming-ton.

RUSHING THE WORK.
The work of remodeling the building to be occupied by the Allen County Loan and Savings association is being pushed along rapidly. Thompson Bros. completed the plumbing this morning. The contract for the hot water heating service has been awarded to Robert Spice and the Edmunds company will do the electric wiring.

STEAMER RESCUES SAILORS.
Mackinaw City, Mich., Sept. 8.—After drifting around Lake Huron for ninety-one hours in a yawl boat two survivors of the lost Canadian schooner Lisgar were picked up by the steamer Case. They are Captain Freeman and Nelson Altura, a sailor. Captain Freeman is of the opinion that the other five members of the crew, including his wife, were all lost. The Lisgar had a cargo of coal for Perry sound and with the schooner Grimsby formed the tow of the steamer Clinton. All three boats are of Canadian register. In a gale of wind on Lake Huron the Lisgar foundered at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The Clinton and her other consort put into Goderich after much difficulty. Captain Freeman and Altura managed to get into the boat, but they drifted nearly four days before they were sighted by a passing boat. In that time they had gone nearly the length of Lake Huron, as they were twenty miles below Thunder bay when the crew of the Case sighted them.

RESTS IN A PAUPER'S GRAVE.
St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 8.—Upon the identification of the body of a man who since last May has occupied a grave in the potter's field depends a woman's claim for $11,000 insurance. The man was known in St. Louis as Joseph Madden. He had frequented a home maintained by charity and appeared to be out of his mind. He seemed to have seen better days and there was much speculation as to who he was. He contracted consumption and was taken to the city hospital, where he died on May 15. The body was exposed at the morgue for a week, but as no one claimed it it was buried in the potter's field. Recently a St. Louisian visited Mrs. Madden in St. Paul. She told him that her husband had disappeared from home three years ago. In the hope of finding him she gave the St. Louisian a photograph which, when presented at the St. Louis morgue, was recognized as the man who was buried here last May. Mrs. Madden will come on to St. Louis to identify the body.

COURT NEWS.
Judge O'Rourke granted Martha J. Lyman a divorce from Charles H. Lyman. The couple were married in 1863 and have three grown children, all of whom make their home with the mother on Hayden street.
Judge O'Rourke called the docket and disposed of several claims. The judge announced that he would again consider claims tomorrow and all persons who failed to appear and offer proof of claims would find their claims dismissed.
Charles E. Gilden has commenced suit for $2,000 against Rachel M. Boltz et al. The suit is to foreclose a mortgage.

MR. RANDALL'S ASSISTANT.
C. H. Goss, of Martinsville, Ohio, has been employed to assist City Engineer Randall in his work during the balance of the season. Mr. Randall is desirous of completing the plans for the big intercepting sewer and with the immense amount of other work on his hands he found it impossible for him to do all the work and the employment of an assistant was a necessity. Mr. Goss comes recommended as a thoroughly competent engineer.

A BAND CONCERT.

Edward Miller, representing the committee having in charge the Labor day celebration, visited the board of works last evening and secured the consent of the board for the use of the park next Thursday evening, at which time there will be a band concert by the Olympia band and the stereopticon views which failed so utterly Monday evening will be reproduced.

GO TO BALTIMORE.

H. C. Zollinger, Dr. E. P. Banning and Capt. H. W. Dickman leave Monday for Baltimore to attend the national encampment of the Union Veteran Legion as delegates from the local post. James Sheridan and W. J. Bright are already there and other Fort Wayne people may join the party.

MR. CROKER IS IN MICHIGAN.

Fabius, Mich., Sept. 8.—Richard Croker, of Tammany Hall, New York, is at Englewood, Kaiser lake, enjoying the seclusion and quiet of that beautiful summer home. His political friends and enemies will probably be glad to hear of his whereabouts. Mr. Croker does not reveal his identity and guests at Englewood declare that the gentleman is Colonel Edwards, of Brooklyn.

BAKER TAKEN BACK.

Harry L. Henderson, chaplain of the Michigan City prison, came to Fort Wayne Thursday and in the afternoon returned to the prison with James S. Baker, the aged prisoner, who was released on parole by Governor Mount several weeks ago, but whose parole was revoked because he was confined in the poor house instead of being taken care of by relatives. The relatives claim that he was in the poor house only temporarily.

BOEHM IS IN JAIL.

Deputy Sheriff Young went to Leo Thursday and arrested Chris. Boehm, who formerly conducted a saloon above Robison park. Boehm owed several fines which he had failed to pay and Judge O'Rourke issued a mittimus and ordered him locked up until he settles. The prisoner says he will spend seventy-seven days in jail and board out the fines and costs.

Senator Beveridge will not even tell the newspapers what he told President McKinley. His say will be awaited by the public with less patience than a housemaid for the next installment of a love serial.

Nothing thrilling in the way of news has come from Manila since the early part of the week when the cable startled us with the announcement that five American soldiers had put a squad of rebels to flight and captured one bull-head, presumed, in the absence of statements to the contrary, to be as good as new.

The example given by Congressman Lentz in his speech at the mass meeting in New York of the Chicago platform democracy, of the government censorship of the official news from Manila, is sufficiently to the point. Mr. Lentz said the war department gave out a dispatch as follows: "Volunteers willing to remain." The congressman went to the department and asked to see the original, which read: "Volunteers unwilling to re-enlist, but willing to remain until transports arrive."

It is reported that Colonel Bryan has reconsidered his determination to take part in the Kentucky campaign in behalf of Candidate Goebel and will keep out of the state fight of the demagogues. In this Mr. Bryan cannot but be considered wise. The trouble in Kentucky is purely a family affair. Each faction is friendly to Mr. Bryan. No national issues are involved and even state issues do not rise to the importance of the intra-party issues which the Kentucky democracy has to settle. Mr. Bryan would only multiply trouble for himself and his Kentucky friends by espousing the cause of either faction. The Kentuckians will determine their fight in their own way, and that way is in large part not Mr. Bryan's way.

The New York Times publishes an interview with a man who says he knows all about the scheme supposed to have been devised in this country to rescue Dreyfus from Devil's Island, and which Dreyfus refused to entertain because he did not want liberty without vindication. Unfortunately for the interview, this man refuses to give his name and talks very little. He says all the Americans in the scheme have since distinguished themselves in the American wars, and of course that leaves a whole army to choose from. When asked if Funston was in it, he replied, "Well—er—men of that kind," which still gives a rather large field from which to guess. The interviewer got as close to it once as to say that all the men had been engaged in Cuban filibustering expeditions.

And now just as fashion decrees that ribbon is to be employed profusely in the embellishment of the new millinery and gowns, the organization of a silk ribbon trust is proposed. The trust is to have control of nearly all the ribbon mills of the country and through its incorporation the price of silk ribbon is to be advanced one-half cent a line. This is a serious announcement. All woman-kind loves ribbons, and some idea of the extent to which they wear them may be conceived from the statement that the contemplated combine is to have a capital of thirty million dollars. Detailed information is not vouchsafed, but it may be readily assumed that the members of the proposed trust are all of the masculine gender. About the only ribbon a man wears is the one around his hat. Woman buys millions of yards of ribbon annually. She uses it for all sorts of purposes from a bow for her bonnet to rosettes for her garters or a mark for her prayer book. There need be no fear, however, that the ends of poetical justice will be defeated, for although it is mostly the women who buy the ribbons, it is mostly the men who pay for them.

The fate of Captain Alfred Dreyfus, the French army officer, persecuted because he was born a Jew and made the scape-goat of a foul nest of generals, is now with the judges of the court-martial. It is scarcely possible to conceive any other issue of the trial than an acquittal. But we in America are apt to judge the status of the case by the high standards of American justice. The trial is in France where the army is everything, and the general staff of the army is mad for a second, a complete and a permanent degradation of the accused officer. The trial has disclosed to all the world the intensity of the desire of the generals for the conviction of the prisoner and the weakness of the case against him. There has been no real evidence. The generals have simply declared on their souls and their consciences and on their hearts and other internal organs that "Dreyfus is guilty," and there it ends. It is proved that Dreyfus not only was not the author of the bordereau, but that he could not have written it. The man who did not write the bordereau is not the culprit. That Dreyfus is not the man who wrote the treasonable document proved, the case might have stopped there and full justice been done. There is really promising ground upon which to base a hope of acquittal. It is not to be imagined that the court-martial would refuse the rogatory commission to secure the evidence of Colonel Schwartzkoppen, former German military attaché at Paris, and Major Panizzardi, former Italian military attaché, unless some verdict had been already agreed upon. These men could not only have cleared Dreyfus absolutely, if innocent, but would have made it possible to uncover the real traitor. It looks much as though the purpose is to acquit Dreyfus and spare the man actually guilty.

CADET WILLSON HOME.

James Willson, a cadet at the Annapolis naval academy, arrived in the city Thursday evening for a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Willson, of 59 Oakley street. Mr. Willson is on a furlough and will remain until September 20. He is highly pleased with his new life in Uncle Sam's service. Cadet Willson was aboard the training ship "Moenagahela," which was recently becalmed at sea, and its prolonged absence occasioned some alarm in naval circles. The ship is an old sailing vessel and was in a number of severe squalls during its voyage, as well as passing uncomfortably close to a waterspout. These disturbances were followed by a calm, so that the vessel was unable to reach port. Cadet Willson says there was no alarm among those on board at any time, though they ran out of fresh water and were obliged to start the condensing apparatus.

MYSTERY IN HOOSIER GOLD.BROWN COUNTY FARMERS PAN OUT DUST MANY YEARS.

No Lode Is Found, But With Blanket They Catch Flour Gold on Top of Sluice Boxes.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 8.—Thirty miles from Indianapolis as the crow flies is a county as unknown to the rest of the state, almost as Thibet is to the civilized world. Jagged and rough with hills, whose poor soil offers a scanty subsistence to its struggling handful of people, Brown county has never heard the shriek of a locomotive whistle. Though for more than fifty years gold has been found there, the county never has known a mining camp of more than three tents.

Last week the state was startled by the announcement that the Indianapolis and Southern railroad is to build a line through the heart of this isolated region. The officials speak in no sanguine terms of what they expect to haul out of old Brown county, though they refer hopefully to the hard-wood lumber on the rocky hills.

But it is gold that has given Brown county its greatest claim to prominence, aside from its remoteness and the primitive quaintness of its inhabitants. Professor John Collett, a learned Indiana geologist who died recently, once said there was enough gold in this county to pay the entire national debt, then grimly added that every dollar's worth of gold taken out of the county would require the expenditure of another dollar. And this is what hundreds of men who have ventured to pan the creeks of Brown county in the last century have found out, yet each summer finds the gold-seekers at work on the black sandbars.

SOURCE OF A GOLD MYSTERY.

This summer the activity was renewed with greater zest than ever, and prospectors are drifting up into Morgan county, where the finds are better and the signs more favorable. It is not uncommon to hear of men making $5 a day panning. Nothing more progressive in mining machinery than the old-fashioned rocker and rough sluice-box has ever been utilized. While every rain brings down gold from the hillsides, no one has been able to find quartz. It is all fine flour gold of twenty-two carats, and equal in quality and color to the best gold of the west African coast. No borings have been made, and the source of the gold is a mystery even to those geologists who maintain it came down from the north with the glacial drift. The uniformity of its appearance, notwithstanding the scantiness of quantity, leads to the general impression that nature placed the gold in solution, as it were, in these high, broad hills.

MINES IN FARM BARNYARDS.

In the spring, summer, and autumn, when attention can be diverted from the miserable garden patches, the farmers take a turn at the pans, and make profits ranging from 75 cents to $3 a day, every man having a gold mine in his barnyard. The scarcity of flowing water operates against larger profits.

Near Centerton, Morgan county, a few miles over the Brown county line, many phials of the flour gold have been secured this month. Most of the gold is sent to Indianapolis, where it is handled by one jeweler, Edward G. Gardner, who has great faith in the ultimate gold output of Brown and Morgan counties. Many articles of jewelry worn in this city are made of the Hoosier state gold, and Brown county gold has been a favorite in the emblem rings worn by local Scottish Rite Masons.

The state board of tax commissioners last week assessed the county at an average of $0.26 an acre for land and improvements, the whole value of the county being fixed at $1,750,000. Yet when a stranger appears along one of these gold-bearing creeks and asks a farmer to put a price on his land, the value immediately jumps to $50 or more an acre, only to take a tumble when the stranger leaves. Seldom is a farm sold.

The sluice boxes used by the farmers are about five feet long. The black sand, with plenty of water, is poured into one end of the boxes and the particles of gold sink to resting places between the intercepting boards.

FLOUR GOLD IN BLANKETS.

Much of the gold is so fine it floats on the surface of the water, and the miners use a simple method to catch it. A blanket is laid over the open top of the box, and is allowed to rest on the water flowing through. The minute grains of gold catch on the rough blanket, and are thus arrested. The blanket is taken to the farmhouse and placed in a warm room. It soon dries out, and is then beaten over paper spread on the floor.

Jeweler Garner has a scheme by which he figures twenty times as much gold can be taken out of the creeks in a day as by the small sluice boxes. He proposes to construct a great trough, 150 feet long, after the pattern of the crude sluice boxes, and by the use of a force pump send the black sand and the water of the creeks into the trough by the barrelful. He estimates that with a capital of $1,000 for first expenses a gold-garnering plant can be established on Gold Creek, in Morgan county, at a large profit.

HERMIT OF THE HILLS.

In the Brown county recesses are queer characters. One of them, Henry Blivens, an argonaut of '49, has acquired an air of mystery by his reticence and his lonely life in a cabin up in the hills. That he washes for gold every one knows, though no one has definite information as to what Blivens has made. Reports are common that he has discovered the lode and is taking out gold secretly in small quantities and spiriting it away to some city. A mysterious trip he made to Chicago set the farmers to speculating, and when Blivens admitted that he sold $100 worth of the flakes belief in his hidden wealth was strengthened. Once he was seen to carry a quantity of gold to a bank in a neighboring county. He attends the Mount Olive church in the Salt Creek neighborhood every Sunday morning, and when the services are over rapidly strides away to his fastness in the hills, where none has dared to disturb him.

It is said Blivens has found several nuggets, a thing now rare in Brown county, although some as high as $35 in value have been found in years past. The first kind of nuggets was on Bean Blossom Creek, which for years gave its name to Brown county gold. Tradition has it, and there is little else of history in Brown county, that large finds were made by the natives before the war.

Another quaint gold-seeker is "Old Man" Merriman. His farm consists of 1,000 acres of barren land. Most of his time he spends along Gold Creek, industriously washing out the black sand. On his trips he carries a bag of brown sugar, and his few acquaintances say he subsists on sugar alone when he is searching for the yellow metal. He is content to lie down at night at the side of a log and sleep until the sun calls him to the creek again. Four times a year he comes to Indianapolis with a bottle of flour gold, sells it, and returns to his monotonous existence on Gold Creek.

ROYALTY ON ROCKERS.

A few years ago an old California prospector thought he could solve the problem in Brown county, and surprised the people there by constructing a rocker. Then the farmers for miles around began building rockers. The old prospector bided his time and then went around demanding a royalty of $17 an each rocker, claiming he was the inventor and put-tee. At last he had found a Goldconda. A year later some chap from the city strolled in and told the people there was no more patent on a rocker than on a plain broom handle. Next day the ex-argonaut left Brown county for good.

DRAWING THE NET.

Plymouth, Ind., Sept. 8.—Evidence is accumulating tending to fix the responsibility for the attempted murder of the Rev. M. L. Peters, of Lapex, and family, near here, last Saturday night, by the use of dynamite. That the murder of Peters was contemplated is shown by the fact that the heavy charge was placed within three feet of his study chair, which he would have been occupying had he been at home at the time the explosion occurred. The prosecution of the guilty parties will be pushed, as the people of the entire county are much exasperated because of the dastardly deed. Mr. Peters is not a prohibitionist; indeed he is exceptionally liberal-minded for a minister on the question of intoxicants. His instrumentality in the prosecution of persons connected with the drink traffic was on no other grounds than that the law had been violated. He has taken no exception to the saloon when operated within the restrictions of the law.

VERDICT IS NEAR.

nocence and his touching letters to his family, exclaiming:

"In them you see his soul, which speaks. Alone in his tomb he communes with himself. He cherishes the hope of seeing his innocence acknowledged."

LETTERS OF DREYFUS.

Among the letters of Dreyfus read by M. Demange was one in which, after asserting his innocence and declaring he always served the tri-color with devotion and honor, the prisoner complained that he was treated on Devil's Island like an ordinary convict. It concludes with the words:

"I wish to live."

"That is a soldier's soul," exclaimed M. Demange, "and it is that man you call a traitor. That is the man who in your presence restrains his sobs and his emotions."

"Ah, gentlemen, I would rather defend guilty men who are clever dissemblers than an innocent man who is too sincere."

Other letters of the prisoner were read, all breathing the same desire to live to see his honor restored, though the writer was broken down in health and spirit.

APPEALED TO BOISDEFRE.

One letter, written in 1897, appeals to General De Boisdeffre to lend his generous aid in securing for the writer his restoration to the liberty of which he had been robbed.

Writing to his brother, the prisoner said:

"While one or more scoundrels are walking free, it would be a happy release for me to die, but it would be a disgrace to Lucille and my children."

In this letter the writer urged his brother to find the culprits, while carefully protecting the interests of the country.

"Is not that the cry of an innocent man?" asked M. Demange, adding: "Yet, though General De Boisdeffre received the letter, he did not forward it to Mathieu Dreyfus."

PRODUCED NO PROOFS.

"Five ministers of war," said M. Demange, "pronounced Dreyfus guilty, while admitting it was impossible to produce proofs. General De Boisdeffre, General Gonse and General Roget also affirmed their belief in his guilt. But, happily, they stated reasons, and, instead of proofs, only accumulated presumptions."

After pointing out that the generals only studied the case at the very moment when public aberration had reduced the whole question to a conflict between Dreyfus and the army, thus making it impossible that the generals should not be prejudiced, and probabilities and presumptions seemed to them to be proofs, M. Demange said: "I must acknowledge, however, the honesty and honorable conduct of the generals, who could not have acted otherwise than they have done."

TRIBUTE TO THE GENERALS.

Counsel then paid an eloquent tribute to the "honesty of purpose" manifested by the generals.

Dealing next with the confessions, counsel read the report of Captain Lebrun-Renaud, of the republican guard, who had the prisoner in custody previous to his degradation, and maintained that the exact words of Dreyfus, which were now known, only reflected ideas Colonel Du Paty de Clam had previously expressed to the prisoner, adding that although Du Paty de Clam maintained the contrary, it was certain imagination had played a much greater part than reason in the acts of Du Paty de Clam. It was also significant that the report drawn up by Du Paty de Clam on the day following his interview with Dreyfus had disappeared. Du Paty de Clam, counsel pointed out, had evidently forgotten his remarks to Dreyfus, as he had forgotten other facts.

GONSE'S ATTITUDE.

M. Demange said he was surprised at the attitude of General Gonse towards the alleged confessions and marveled at the fact that Captain Lebrun-Renaud, who was sent to the Elysee palace expressly to repeat the confessions, did not mention them. It was likewise inexplicable that General Saussier and General Mercier took no steps to verify the so-called confessions, which were lost sight of until M. Carnegnac sprung them upon the chamber of deputies as proof of the guilt of Dreyfus. The court of cassation had justly decided that they were not confessions.

THE SECRET DOSSIER.

Proceeding to discuss the secret dossier, M. Demange examined the documents one after the other. He said that all interpretations of the document commencing "doubts proof" were hypothetical, but they applied much more easily to Esterhazy than to Dreyfus. It was so with the other documents.

There was nothing to indicate that Dreyfus was concerned any more than anyone else. The leakage ascribed to Dreyfus could only refer to the plans of fortresses and this leakage continued until 1897.

The document containing the words "cette canaille de D." only indicated a poor devil and could not be ascribed to a man whom another let-ted described as a friend in the second bureau. No credence could be attached to some of the documents, while others did not apply at all to the prisoner.

The sixth document was a letter written by Count Von Munster-Ledenburg, the German ambassador to France from Germany, to Colonel Schwartzkoppen, the military attaché of Germany at Paris, containing the words "As regards Dreyfus, we are easy." M. Demange pointed out that the Dreyfus case was the universal topic of Germany at the time, and, at first, the German officials might have been uneasy, but had evidently reassured themselves. Counsel was indignant that because Count Von Munster-Ledenburg had not expressly declared Dreyfus was innocent, the prosecution had deducted from his words an avowal of the guilt of Dreyfus.

LETTER BY PANIZZARDI.

In regard to the letters of November 2 and November 11, sent by Major Panizzardi to his chief, it had been alleged that they proved Dreyfus had relations with Colonel Schwartzkoppen, whereas, in reality, Major Panizzardi merely denied that Dreyfus had any relations with Italy. It was impossible to doubt the authenticity of these facts. It was incredible that Colonel Schwartzkoppen and Major Panizzardi deceived their governments. The omission of Esterhazy's name from these letters was intentional.

Concluding his examinations of the secret dossier, M. Demange remarked that he felt compelled to refer to these documents emanating from foreigners, as General Mercier relied upon them to support the guilt of Dreyfus. The statements of the military attaches that they had no relations with Dreyfus had been confirmed by the statement of the minister in the reichstag, who could not have been deceived by his attaché at Paris.

DOSSIER IS WORTHLESS.

"I have finished," said M. Demange, "my examination of the secret dossier. All France knows the worthlessness of its contents. Yet it is owing to it that the country has been distracted for months and it has been thought that there were documents and proofs in it which might bring France to blows with a neighboring power. You are now acquainted with it. The secret dossier has been exploded."

"You will pardon me the loss of time I have imposed upon you. I will now take up the circumstantial evidence."

A brief adjournment of the court was here announced.

Counsel was warmly applauded as he took his seat.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

On the resumption of the session M. Demange discussed the circumstantial evidence adduced in 1894. He said the perturbation of Dreyfus at the dictation scene had nothing to do with producing the idea of guilt in the minds of those present. Colonel Du Paty de Clam, M. Cochefert and Major Grébillon were all convinced beforehand of his guilt, as a result of evidence which they considered unimpeachable, so much so that they wished Dreyfus to blow out his brains, but Dreyfus declined, because he was innocent. M. Demange successively showed the hollowness of the stories of Mathieu Dreyfus' attempt to corrupt Colonel Sandherr, the late Lieutenant Colonel Henry's theatrical denunciation of Dreyfus as a traitor at the court martial of 1894, and the reports of the detectives. He pointed out how the prosecution had advanced as proof the alleged statements of individuals who were not in any war office, but whom they carefully abstain from producing for examination, especially dwelling upon Henry's statement in 1894, which has since been admitted to be false; that a certain war office employee informed him that Dreyfus was the culprit. M. Demange then showed the emptiness of the gambling and libertine charges against the prisoner and said the simplest actions of Dreyfus were misconstrued, even his legitimate desire to obtain knowledge being imputed as crime.

Could a spy have maintained the haughty demeanor Dreyfus always showed toward his comrades?

FAISLTY OF EVIDENCE.

After demonstrating the falsity of the evidence of M. de Beaurepaire's witnesses, Mueller, Dubreuil, Villon and Ceranski, counsel said the only proof left was the bordereau. Who could have sent it? Who wrote it? Complete light could only be shown by the production of the notes enumerated in the bordereau.

This had been said by General Zurlinden himself. But, counsel asked the court to remember with reference to those notes that all General Dreyfus could say was that it was not impossible that Dreyfus might have possessed them. This was all he could say when it was a question of high treason. M. Demange added:

"You will find this phrase in the mouth of a witness entitled to your entire respect, and it is upon the strength of such a statement that Dreyfus is to be proved guilty. I will not attempt to obtain such light on the documents, but since theories have been promulgated I will suggest one. I will seek to show that you must put aside even the technical value of the bordereau and the last effort of the prosecution. I will seek to combat the circumstantial evidence it has invoked."

At the request of M. Demange, the court, at this juncture, adjourned until tomorrow.

EXONERATES DREYFUS.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—The Reichsanzeiger, this evening, in the official portion of the paper, published the following statement:

"We are authorized to repeat here the declarations which the imperial government, while loyally observing the reserve demanded by the internal matters of another country, has made concerning the French Captain Dreyfus. For the preservation of his own dignity and the fulfillment of a duty to humanity, Prince Von Munster, after obtaining the orders of the emperor, repeatedly made in December, 1894, and in January, 1895, to M. Hanotaux, M. Dupuy and M. Casimir-Perier, declarations to the effect that the imperial embassy in France never maintained either directly or indirectly any relations with Dreyfus."

"Secretary of State Von Buelow, in the reichstag, January 24, 1898, made the following statement: 'I declare in the most positive manner that no relations or connections of any kind ever existed between the French ex-captain, Dreyfus, now on Devil's Island, and any German agents.'"

AFTER THIRTY-FIVE YEARS.

Scottsburg, Ind., Sept. 8.—After thirty-five years of separation, James J. Carter, of this place, has succeeded in locating the family of his brother John, whom he lost track of during the late war. Both enlisted in Ohio in the cause of the union. In 1864, John was captured by the confederates, and taken to the Andersonville prison, where he died, of starvation. He left a wife, who died a few years later, and four children. After the close of the war, Mr. Carter returned to his Ohio home, and finally moved here. No trace could be found of his brother's family, and years of fruitless search followed. Last week, while on a street car, in Cincinnati, Dr. Sarver, who resides here, was struck by the resemblance of the motorman to Mr. Carter, and, knowing of the separation, made inquiries concerning him. Strange to say, it proved to be Mr. Carter's brother's oldest child. Correspondence followed, and now the motorman will visit his uncle here, who is too feeble to travel to Cincinnati.

STEREOPTICON EXHIBITION.

The stereopticon views, which, on account of imperfect conditions on Labor day night, failed to show to advantage and as a result were abandoned, will be displayed at Swinney park next Thursday night. Everything will be so arranged as to make the views show to perfection. Many of the views have been retaken and some additional ones will be added. The Olympia band will be present and render a fine musical program, which will be published later. The entertainment will be free and the thousands of people who were at Swinney park on Labor day night to see the views and who went away disappointed will have an opportunity of seeing one of the best and most unique shows of the kind ever given in Fort Wayne.

MERRITT TO COMMAND.

New York, Sept. 8.—A special to the Journal and Advertiser from Washington says: After forty-eight hours of almost constant discussion among the president, Secretary Root, Prof. Schurman, Senator Beveridge, General Miles and Adjutant General Corbin, it may be stated positively that General Merritt will go to the Philippines.

ADMIRAL PICKING DEAD.

Washington, Sept. 8.—A telegram received at the navy department announces the sudden death this morning of Rear Admiral Henry F. Pickens, commandant of the Boston navy yard. Death was due to heart disease.

HURRICANE IN WEST INDIES.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The weather bureau has issued the following special storm bulletin: "11:10 a. m.—Hurricane signal displayed at St. Kitts, W. I. Storm central east of that island, apparently moving northwest."

LAKE SCHOONER FOUNDERS.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—The schooner America, which for over half a century has sailed the lakes, foundered today thirty-five miles northeast of this harbor. The crew was taken off by a tug.

The L. A. to B. R. T. will on Saturday evening, Sept. 9, at 7:30, in the B. R. L. hall, hold a special meeting.

Children of the Free Methodist Sunday school went to Swinney park this afternoon in a special car and held a picnic in the grove.

IT STARTED AT THE BOTTOM.

WHEAT ALMOST TOUCHED THE PUT PRICES.

Slight Rally Followed the Decline—

Trading Mainly Professional—
Other Markets.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Wheat came near touching put figures at the opening today. December started at 71½¢@71¾¢, a decline of ¼¢. The price soon touched 71¢@71½¢ under a moderate liquidation and showed little buoyancy when the pressure was removed. The sustaining influence in the coarse grain market of the past few days—hot dry weather—and which indirectly affected wheat, was removed today, and the news more directly affecting wheat favored sellers.

Argentine shipments were large, as were northwest receipts, and the weather in the northwest was perfect for the movement. Liverpool was slightly lower, and reported a poor spot demand, with large receipts at Russian ports. Late cables showed more firmness, but this market did not respond. September was steadier than the deferred futures and the spread narrowed somewhat in consequence. Minneapolis and Duluth receipts were 821 cars, against 565 last week and 844 a year ago. Chicago receipts were 91 cars, 2 of contract grade. The market was a narrow one, little interest being shown except by professionals, and price changes were small and infrequent. December reacted to 71½¢ and held around that price.

Corn was fairly active and easier. Rains were reported throughout the corn belt, with much cooler weather, and longs sold freely on this account. Receipts were 690 cars. The demand was slow. December opened ½¢ lower at 28½¢@28¾¢ and held around that price.

Oats were quiet and easier with corn, with some liquidation in both December and September. Shorts were good buyers of the latter and the price showed a slight advance at one time. Receipts were 323 cars. December opened unchanged at 20½¢ and declined to 20¼¢@20½¢. September sold at 21½¢ and reacted later to 21¼¢@21½¢.

Provisions were a little easier all around. The demand was slow and there was some inclination to realize at the recent advance.

October pork opened a shade lower at $8.20, eased off to $8.17½¢ and reacted to $8.20.

October lard opened 2½¢ lower at $5.32½¢.

October ribs opened unchanged at $5.35 and sold at $5.32½¢, reacting to the opening price.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows: Wheat—Sept., 70¾¢; Dec., 71¼¢; May, 71¼¢@71½¢. Corn—Sept., 31½¢@31¾¢; Oct., 30¾¢; Dec., 28½¢; May, 28¾¢. Oats—Sept., 21¼¢; Dec., 20½¢; May, 22¢@22½¢. Pork—Sept., $8.00; Oct., $8.07½¢; Dec., $8.20; Jan., $8.50. Lard—Sept., $5.25; Oct., $5.27½¢; Dec., $5.35@5.37½¢; Jan., $5.45. Ribs—Sept., $5.25; Oct., $5.27½¢; Dec., $5.30; Jan., $5.49½¢@5.50. Flax—Cash N. W., $1.16; Cash S. W., $1.14; Sept., $1.09; Oct., $1.07½¢; Dec., $1.07½¢.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Estimated receipts of hogs today, 16,000; tomorrow, 10,000; left over, 3,169. Market generally strong. Mixed and butchers, $1.30@1.40; good heavy, $4.45@4.65; rough heavy, $4.15@4.30; light, $4.35@4.72½¢. Cattle—Receipts, 1,000. Market steady. Beaves, $4.50@4.65; cows and heifers, $1.75@5.40; Texas steers, $3.60@4.25; stockers and feeders, $3.00@5.00; westerns, $4.00@5.40.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 8.—The depression in London on preparations for war was reflected at the opening hour. Losses of railroads were within fractional limits, except in the cases of Kansas and Texas preferred, which fell ¼¢, and Norfolk and Western preferred 1 point. Among the specialties Colorado Fuel lost ¼¢, Republic Steel ¼¢ and Manhattan and Continental Tobacco preferred a point. American Hoop and Republic Steel preferred were isolated instances of firmness.

Large buying orders for the prominent specialties, Sugar, Brooklyn Transit, Tennessee Coal, Colorado Fuel, Federal Steel and Republic Steel lifted them 1@1½¢ and Consolidated Gas 4 points. Railway stocks averaged ½¢ up, except for Kansas and Texas preferred, which regained its opening loss. A few properties failed to share in the rise. Trading became very dull toward the close of the first hour, but the improved level was sustained.

Speculation became more active and broader at the expense of values, the entire list dropping to the lowest. Declines reached a point in numerous instances, Omaha losing 5 and American Tobacco, Consolidated

Gas, Fort Worth and Rio Grande and Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis preferred 2 each. At the low range covering orders were executed, which steadied some stocks, but the general market was not much relieved.

Sales of stocks to noon, 251,020 shares.

Price changes of bonds were slightly mixed. There was a yielding tendency in most cases.

The July statement of earnings of Pacific Mail, showing a decrease, was the signal for a raid by the bears, which dropped the price nearly 4 points, with a subsequent rally. Leather preferred, Hocking Valley preferred and National Steel lost from 1½¢ to 1½¢. The general market was very dull and little affected. Tennessee Coal and Manhattan made a fresh advance to top figures in the late dealings with but little effect on the general list.

The closing was rather dull and irregular at mixed net changes.

NEW YORK PRODUCE.

New York, Sept. 8.—Butter—Receipts, 2,987 pkgs; market firm; western creamery, 17¢@22¢; June creamery, 18¢@21¢; factory, 13¢@18½¢.

Cheese—Receipts, 5,214 pkgs; market strong; large white, 11¼¢@11½¢; small white, 11¼¢@11½¢; large colored, 11½¢; small colored, 11½¢@11¾¢.

Eggs—Receipts, 5,954 pkgs; market firm; western candle extras at mark, 13¢@16¢.

Sugar—Raw, quiet; refined, irregular.

Coffee—Dull.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Sept. 8.—Money on call firm at 4½¢@5 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4½¢@5 per cent; sterling exchange weak with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86@4.86½¢ for demand and at $4.83@4.83½¢ for 60 days; posted rates, $4.84@4.87½¢; commercial bills, $4.82; silver certificates, 50¢@50½¢; bar silver, 50¢; Mexican dollars, 47½¢.

THE BOND MARKET.

New York, Sept. 8.—Government bonds steady: U. S. 2s registered, 100½¢; U. S. 3s registered, 108½¢; U. S. 3s coupon, 108½¢; U. S. 4s registered (new), 130½¢; U. S. 4s coupon (new), 130½¢; U. S. 4s registered (old), 111½¢; U. S. 4s coupon (old), 113¢; U. S. 5s registered, 111½¢; U. S. 5s coupon, 111½¢.

KILLS MAN WITH FIST BLOW.

Wabash, Ind., Sept. 8.—About midnight Wednesday night Walter Records struck George Miller, a cigar-maker, and knocked him down. Miller was picked up some time afterward and it was discovered that he had an ugly Y-shaped wound in the back of his head and a fracture of the skull. He was taken to the city hall and died in about twenty minutes. The police found Records in bed at the Sherman house and lodged him in jail. He claims that he used only his fist in striking Miller. Records yesterday afternoon waived preliminary examination and was remanded to jail by Justice Tyler, without bail.

NO REVOLUTION IN VENEZUELA.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Neither the state department nor the navy department has had further advice from any official source regarding the impending revolution in Venezuela. The advice received at the Venezuelan legation here contradicting the reports of the threatened trouble in Venezuela have been communicated to the two departments, but the Detroit, meanwhile, has sailed, and, going direct to La Guayana, there will be no opportunity to intercept her even if it were regarded as expedient to do so.

REMAINS OF IVES ARRIVE.

New York, Sept. 8.—Among the passengers who arrived today on board the Ward line steamer Seguranca from Havana and Mexican ports were General Canton and staff, of the Mexican army. The general is governor of Yucatan. The Seguranca also brought the body of Frank C. Ives, the billiard expert, who died recently in Mexico.

NOTRE DAME'S YEAR OPENED.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 8.—The scholastic year at Notre Dame university opened yesterday under the most favorable circumstances. There will be at least 200 more students than last fall. Corby hall is the name of a new dormitory thrown open to undergraduates. Among the new buildings is a large brick structure that is to serve the purpose of steamhouse and electric plant and a cold-storage plant.

Miss Mahel Mensch, daughter of F. P. Mensch, the grocer, is quite ill at her home on East Fourth street.

A GREAT STORY.

No one should miss the great story, "In His Steps—What Would Jesus Do?" by Charles M. Sheldon, the opening chapters of which will be published in The Sentinel Thursday, September 14. It is said that more than 3,000,000 copies of this powerful story have been sold since its appearance a short time ago. No literary work has exerted such a powerful influence in directing public thought to the achievement of higher and better things since Harriet Beecher Stowe gave to the world her immortal "Uncle Tom's Cabin." "In His Steps" has a lesson for the poorest laborer and another for the capitalist; one for the most devout and sincere Christian and another for the poor set who exists in the gutter. It is a story which shows how the world may be made better, how wrong may be triumphed over, how justice may assume full sway. Do not miss the opening chapters. The story will be printed serially in The Sentinel. Watch for it.

SIX ARE SERIOUSLY INJURED.

TROLLEY CAR COLLISION IN CLEVELAND.

Wet Rails Placed Car Beyond Control and It Dashed Into One in Front of It.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 8.—As a result of a collision between two electric cars on Ontario street early this morning six persons were seriously injured, as follows:

Chris. Scheupbach, 131 Arlington street, both legs crushed.
M. A. Weber, 141 Osborn street, right arm injured.
Miss Nora Scanlon, 441 Woodland avenue, legs injured.
Noble Hotchkiss, 1246 Slater avenue, both legs crushed.
J. W. Miller, 426 Quincy street, right leg fractured.
A Woodland avenue car had stopped to take on passengers, when a Jennings avenue car came up rapidly behind it. On account of wet rails the speed of the latter could not be checked and it crashed into the Woodland car with terrific force. Both cars were badly wrecked.

SONS OF VETERANS.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 8.—Commander-in-chief Shepard, of the Sons of Veterans, in his report to the eighteenth annual encampment of the order today, made an important recommendation about the society's badges and decorations. Major A. B. Davis, of Pittsburg, up to his death a few months ago, furnished all badges and regalia to the society. Commander Shepard recommends that the order now manufacture its own badges and sell them at a profit for its own benefit. Quartermaster General Bolton's report showed the order in good condition financially with $2,000 in the treasury. The membership has fallen off about 1,000 in the past year, according to Adjutant General Abbott's report, and he ascribes this to the fact that so many of the young men from whom the order's membership would come have enlisted in the army. The report shows a total membership of 28,000, scattered among 1,200 branches. The order has decided to present to each of its members who served in either the Spanish or Philippine war, a badge of honor, manufactured of a Spanish cannon, which has been promised for that purpose by Secretary of War Root.

BULLETS IN SHAM BATTLE.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 8.—Some real bullets were used in the sham battle in the fair grounds, "The Battle of San Juan," at the state fair grounds last night. Results: Charles Krug, aged ten years, a spectator, killed; Revitta Smithson, private of company F, Fourth Ohio, engaged in the sham battle, fatally wounded; Max Guggenheim, merchant, a spectator, seriously wounded. A bullet was extracted from Guggenheim's wound and the wound in the other cases appear also to have been made by bullets. It is supposed loaded shells were accidentally mixed with blanks furnished the soldiers in the sham battle, though it is claimed all ammunition was carefully inspected.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Word comes to the city today of the horrible death of Mrs. Cline, who lives just across the Allen county line in DeKalb county. The woman drove to Auburn yesterday and at 2 o'clock this morning the horse she was driving came home with only the front wheels of the buggy. A search was made for the woman and she was found near a crossing of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad stone dead. Her body was standing on its head against a fence, the ribs and legs broken and a post broken off where she had struck it. The woman was about 40 years old.

DELEGATES TO AMERICA.

Plymouth, England, Sept. 8.—The Trades Union congress in session here has elected J. Haslam, of the Derbyshire Miners' association, and A. Wilkie, of the Shipwrights' association, of Newcastle, delegates to the Trades Union congress to be held at Detroit, Mich.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 8.—A heavy electrical storm swept over this vicinity yesterday afternoon. At Waukegan lightning struck a barn, killing W. L. Thomas and a man named Simpson. Two others were knocked down by the bolt and seriously burned.

TALKED OF PHILIPPINES.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The cabinet meeting today was devoted almost entirely to a discussion of the local governments which will be established in the Philippines on the cessation of hostilities. Secretary Root has given the matter much thought and his views as expressed at the meeting today were received with approval by all of the members present.

WALTHER LEAGUE DAY.

The several Walther leagues of the city are uniting in an excursion to Robison park today, and while the threatening weather has in a measure interfered with the attendance, a fairly good crowd is enjoying the day there. The evening attendance promises to be excellent, as the City band will render a concert from 7 to 10 o'clock.

DINED OLYMPIA'S MEN.

Gibraltar, Sept. 8.—Major General F. G. Slade, the officer commanding the royal artillery here, and the other artillery officers stationed at this post, yesterday entertained the officers of the United States cruiser Olympia at dinner. The usual toasts were drunk and it was altogether a brilliant affair. Admiral Dewey was not present.

THRASHED IN HIS BED.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 8.—Advice from Bremen say that a sensational suit for damages will be brought by John Berger, Jr., living near that place, against Edward Hepler, also a resident of that locality. Hepler, who is a young married man, had heard stories concerning himself, alleged to have been circulated by Berger. He became enraged at the reports in circulation and started to beat Berger. He went to the latter's house and was told that Berger had gone to bed. He made his way to his room and, without warning, assaulted him. Berger was dragged to the floor and in falling his shoulder was dislocated and he was otherwise seriously injured. Berger has retained attorneys, and it is said, action will be brought for $10,000.

SHE ELOPED ON A TANDEM.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 8.—I. J. Prout, a merchant living in the Dorchester district, today reported to the police that his daughter, Nellie, eighteen years old, and $85 had disappeared. Nellie had developed a fondness for bicycling and spent her evenings riding through the parks with young men. Her mother would not permit her staying out late at night, and so when reprimanded two days ago she scowled and acted sulky. This morning a long ladder—too heavy for the girl to lift—was found leaning against the window of the chamber in which Nellie had retired last night. The police believe the girl eloped on a tandem with some bicyclist.

A CHAPTER OF SALADS.

Nothing is more refreshing than a crisp, delicious salad. Lettuce is always acceptable, but it is now a little scarce, and other salads can be substituted for it. Fruit salads are in order, and they can be varied daily. The fruit should be peeled—pears, peaches, bananas or apples—kept very cold until time to serve. It can be served with either a French or mayonnaise dressing, and garnished with lettuce leaves, watercress or fruit leaves. New apples are in market, and they constitute a savory salad. They can be served plain or mixed, with onions, English walnuts or celery. For the onion and apple allow one onion to three acid apples. Slice both apples and onions, and season with French dressing. For English walnuts and apples, have two cupfuls each of nuts and sliced apples. Use mayonnaise dressing. One and a half cupfuls each of sliced apples, celery and boiled chestnuts make an unusual and delicious salad, served with a cooked dressing made of one-fourth of a cupful of butter, one-half teaspoonful of mustard, one saltspoonful of paprika, yolks of two eggs, one-fourth of a cupful of vinegar, one-half pint of cream. Cream the butter, add the seasoning, the vinegar, which must be hot, then cook over boiling water until thick, stirring often. Whip the cream and add it to the cold dressing just before serving.

Corn Salad—Remove the corn from the cob and simmer gently for an hour, and drain thoroughly. Cover with a dressing made of the yolks of three eggs mixed with one pint of salad oil and salt and pepper, one tablespoonful of English mustard, one tablespoonful of tarragon vinegar, to which add a finely chopped onion and a gill of whipped cream. Garnish with watercress.

String Bean Salad—Select small, tender beans of uniform size. Wash and place in cold water and string. Then cook in boiling salted water, uncovered, rapidly for fifteen minutes. When they are tender turn out into a colander and rinse in cold water. Let them dry and put into the ice chest until ready. Macerate them with a French dressing. Place on a bed of lettuce leaves and watercress.

Spanish salad is appetizing and it is especially acceptable served with cold joints. Slice very thin a large white Spanish onion and a cucumber, remove the seeds from three or four tomatoes and cut them into small pieces, and after removing the skin from a long red pepper cut it into pieces. Arrange these ingredients in separate layers. Serve with a French dressing.

Josephine Salad—Wash calf's brains thoroughly in cold water and remove the membrane. Cook them in boiling salted water with one tablespoonful of lemon juice ten minutes, then plunge into cold water. Cut the brains into small pieces and mix lightly with some mayonnaise. Arrange in nests of lettuce leaves and cover with mayonnaise and sprinkle with capers.

A popular salad among the English

TRANSVAAL'S FIGHTING MAN.

GENERAL JOUBERT IS A VERY SKILLFUL SOLDIER.

Is the Greatest Warrior in South Africa and Has Love of Gunpowder—An Anecdote.

Gen. P. J. Joubert is the most celebrated fighter in South Africa. He is the commander in chief of the Boer army, and is looked on as the country's savior in the event of war being declared by the English. The general is 68 years old now, and scarred from many a wound from English bullet and native assegai. Yet he is sturdy of frame and keen of eye, and will gladly as a North American Indian. He led the Boers at Majuba Hill, where 280 English gave up their lives, General Joubert losing but five men. He beat the English at Laings Nek, commanded the forces at Bronkhorst and Spruit, and finally caught Jameson like a rat in a trap through quick mobilization of troops and superior marksmanship.

He fought in the native wars when Paul Kruger was commander, and these two became bosom friends, though they have grown apart somewhat in recent years. They and one other Boer were selected to conduct the affairs of the Transvaal when it was in rebellion against England in 1891, and General Joubert has several times come within a few votes of beating Oom Paul for the presidency. He will probably be the next to assume that position, as he holds different views from Kruger. He believes that if the Uitlanders were given the franchise, in a reasonable time they would become good citizens, and that this is the way to solve the problem. At the same time he will not sanction any sort of a revolt, and when the Jameson raiders were lured safely in Pretoria jail he was one who favored shooting them.

An anecdote is told of the general in this connection which shows Oom Paul's diplomatic powers. They stand out in distinct contrast to Joubert, who is essentially a lover of powder.

Ten thousand Boers were gathered about the jail, speculating as to the fate of the prisoners. Some were for instant death, and others, as a grim joke, suggested cutting off their ears. This was taken up by the press immediately, and in a few hours the news was shuddering at the blood-thirstiness of the Transvaal burghers. In the meantime the question was being settled by Oom Paul, who was trying to save the lives of the prisoners, and to this end used every act of persuasion with Joubert, the two being closeted a whole night.

Oom Paul finally prevailed, and Joubert went out before the assembly to win them over to the lenient position. This was his speech: "Fellow-burghers, if you had a beautiful flock of sheep and a neighbor's dogs got into the pasture and killed them, what would you do? Would you take your rifle and straightway proceed to shoot the dogs, thus making yourself liable to greater damage than the value of the sheep destroyed, or would you lay hold on those dogs and carry them to your neighbor, saying, 'Now, here's your dogs. I caught them in the act. Pay me and they shall be returned.' The general waited a moment and then added: "We have the neighbor's dogs in jail. What shall we do with them?" There was hardly a voice dissented against returning the prisoners to the English, and events proved how wise the Boers had been.

Joubert can collect his whole army in forty-eight hours, a speedier mobilization than any other nation can boast of. He has divided the Transvaal into seventeen divisions, each under a commander. They are subdivided into sections, commanded by field cornets and assistant field cornets. When the tocsin is sounded the officers ride from one farm to another until the whole country is warned. The Boer has rifle and ammunition ready, and a piece of "hill-tong" or d.-d. beef, on which he can subsist for two weeks. He jumps on his horse and hurries to the gathering place, leaving the women to farm and herd the cattle.

BASS WORKS BUSYEVERY DEPARTMENT CROWDED WITH ORDERS.REVIVES AIR BRAKE SCHOOLSCAPT. H. M. DIEHL AGAIN A PRECEPTOR.EXCURSION SEASON NEAR ENDNEXT SUNDAY THE LAST TO PUT-IN-BAY.

The greatest activity in its history characterizes the present situation at the Bass works, both in the line of foundry products and in machinery output. The firm has just closed three important shipments of machinery, viz: to Bismarck, N. Y., to Willoughby, Ohio, and to Cleveland, Ohio, and is now engaged upon an extensive shipment of machinery for a steam plant to Beaver Falls, Pa. Every day there are big shipments of car wheels, but these are so common nowadays that little note is taken of them. The company yesterday booked two good orders for products of its boiler shop. One was for a boiler for Charles Higley & Son, of Reading, Mich., and the other for a 200-horse power heater for the International Phosphate company, of Carteret, N. Y. The car wheel foundry is adequate to the demand and carpenters have about completed an addition to it which will enable that department to increase its output about 150 wheels per day. The material for an addition, 60x100 feet, to the blacksmith shop is arriving on the ground and work upon the foundation for that structure will probably begin one week from Monday. There is still more or less delay in the receipt of iron and steel at the works, but there is an improvement over the conditions that existed a few months ago and a few weeks more will probably see the end of the shortage in that line.

END IS IN SIGHT.

The end of the Sunday excursion season is not distant and the citizen who anticipates a cheap trip to Chicago or Toledo must get a "move on" or wait until next year. Next Sunday will be the last day upon which special rates will be made to Put-in-Bay. The dollar rate to Toledo will continue until the close of the baseball season, which will be in three or four weeks. The rate to Chicago is liable to abolishment at any time, though the order may not come for several weeks.

AIR BRAKE CAR LEAVES.

Captain H. M. Diehl left at noon today on the air brake car upon a trip that will probably include the entire northwestern system of the Pennsylvania lines and possibly consume three months. The captain will hold "schools" at all places where a considerable number of railway men are located, instructing them in the use and the care of the Westinghouse air brake. The car has been thoroughly overhauled and several additions have been added to its equipment, making it an "up to date" instruction car. A desk, blackboard and sixteen seats along the side of the car, arranged so they can be dropped out of the way, an easy chair for the captain and matting down the aisles are conveniences that were lacking when the car was last out upon an educational tour. This is one of the best equipped air brake cars in the world. Down its center is a row of seven air brakes, such as are in daily use in the train service, while at the end is all the equipment of a locomotive cab so far as it applies to air brakes. The three valves represent the three styles of air brake valves in use—from the first in service to the latest improvement. There is also a skeleton valve for showing the modus operandi. Captain Diehl will make his first stop at Toledo. He will probably spend the Sundays at home.

THE "MUNCIE'S" NEW LINE.

The through Cincinnati - Fort Wayne freight line recently established by the Lake Erie and Western and the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton roads seems to fill a want in shipping circles. The southbound train, leaving this city at 4:30 in the afternoon, arrives in the Queen City the following morning. The northbound train leaves Cincinnati in the evening and reaches Fort Wayne at 9:30 the following day.

EXCURSION RATES.

The Central Passenger association has authorized excursion rates for those attending the following meetings:

Friends Society at Barnesville, Ohio, Sept. 10-30.
Friends Society at Richmond, Ind., Sept. 26 to Oct. 5.
Ohio Baptists' association at Cincinnati, Oct. 23-26.

TWO MORE NEW ENGINES.

Two more compound engines were received by the Wabash this morning. No. 659 is a Baldwin, four cylinder passenger engine, after the pattern of the others described yesterday. No. 757 is a Richmond compound freight engine.

FIREMAN HURT.

William A. Gallentine, a Pittsburgh fireman, is confined to his home, 258 Clinton street, with injuries received at Clark, Ind., yesterday afternoon. He fell off his engine, badly spraining his right knee. Dr. G. C. Steimen is the attending surgeon.

SHORT ON ENGINES.

The situation at the east yards of the Pittsburgh was thus briefly stated this morning by one of the employees: "Lots of freight and no engines to move it."

This man seems to have described the conditions of other roads also, for there is general complaint of shortage in power and cars. It is all the more remarkable because it comes at a time when lake navigation is at its height.

HIS FOOT MASHED.

August Bailey, employed in the Pittsburgh planing mills, had his right ankle and foot badly injured by a plank falling upon them this morning. Some of the bones of the instep were broken and the injury is of a character that will disable the unfortunate man several weeks.

A TOTAL WRECK.

James Woult left last night for New York, from whence he will sail for Ireland next Monday. The young man came here to live with his sister last spring and took a position in the Pittsburgh shops. During the hot weather last June he suffered a sunstroke, from which he will never recover, and he now returns to his native country a physical and mental wreck. He was a bright young fellow, possessing pleasing address, and soon became quite a favorite among the shopmen. The Pennsylvania company kindly furnished him with transportation to Ireland.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Nickel Plate engine 20 has gone to Stony Island for light repairs. Galvin Bevan has taken a position in the Pittsburgh machine shop.

Pittsburgh Firemen Agerton and E. L. Timney are taking a vacation.

Jack Bailey is acting foreman at the Wabash blacksmith shop, vice Daniel Campbell, who is ill.

The Columbus and Hocking Valley is making plans for the extension of the river division to Gallipolis.

David Kling, of Chicago, was the guest of Fort Wayne friends yesterday. He is a Pennsylvania employee. Chief Clerk James Castle, of the night force of the east yards of the Pennsylvania company, is enjoying a vacation.

John Meyers, a boilermaker, left this morning for Delray, Mich., where he will remain permanently. He is a Wabash employee.

A car in Pennsylvania train No. 91 broke down upon the Arcola siding, causing two other cars to jump the rails. The wreck crew was called out at noon.

Daniel Campbell, foreman of the Wabash blacksmith shop, is sorely afflicted with stomach troubles. He was about to take a vacation when overcome by illness.

Yesterday the Fort Wayne Electric company shipped an 8,000-light dynamo to Wheeling, W. Va. This is one of the largest single phase dynamos ever made.

J. C. Hyde has been appointed chief train dispatcher of the Pittsburgh division of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, which opened for business into Pittsburgh on Monday.

The local freight agents held their semi-monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at the Union Line office. Agent J. J. Flynn, of the Lake Shore, met with them for the first time.

Harry Campbell, of Chicago, is visiting his Fort Wayne friends. He is now an employee of the Northwestern road. Twenty-two years ago he was employed in the Fort Wayne shops.

It is said that the bondholders of the Toledo, St. Louis and Kansas City have tired of litigation and are now anxious that the property be reorganized at as early a date as possible.

Brakeman Rosenberry, of the Nickel Plate, is taking a vacation and his place on the road is being filled by Brakeman W. O. Miller. Brakeman C. Bitner is also enjoying a vacation.

Yardmaster S. A. Grable, of the Nickel Plate, had the main portion of his dwelling house at 152 West Main street torn down and will replace it with a handsome modern structure.

George Quiddore, James E. Quinn, C. F. Merriett and C. Titus, Nickel Plate engineers, are taking a few days' rest. Fireman E. Litchfield, of the same road, is detained at home by sickness in his family.

The next meeting of the Central Passenger association will be held in Chicago Sept. 13, when the alleged deal of the Nickel Plate and the "Three I's" with a certain Chicago scalper will be investigated.

N. R. Adrians has been appointed commercial freight agent of the Wabash, with headquarters at Denver, one of the two new positions in the traffic department of that company recently created by Vice President Ramsey.

It is said that the Norfolk and Western is to secure the Columbus, Lima and Milwaukee, now in course of construction, also that part of the Detroit, Lima and Milwaukee south of Lima, and that the branch from

St. Mary's to Peoria will be built into Columbus to connect with the Norfolk and Western.

Patrick H. Walsh is a new employee at the Bass boiler shop, he commencing work there this morning.

Charles Nahrwald, of the Bass boiler shop, was summoned to Michigan last night to see his daughter, who is very ill.

George Haverly, who was hurt, and John F. Szink, who was sick, reported for duty at the Pittsburgh blacksmith shop this morning.

Harry Mills and Charles Wright, two Wabash shopmen, are driving overland to Battle Creek, Mich., stopping to hunt and fish en route. A letter written at Union, Mich., yesterday states that they are having a fine time.

Blacksmith Samuel McAfee resumed his duties at the forge this morning, after a ten days' visit with friends in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. His wife and children, who had been east several weeks, accompanied Mr. McAfee home.

The Indiana, Illinois and Iowa has decided upon the erection of a bridge across the Illinois river at Marquette, which will be the longest and most costly in the state of Illinois. It will be nearly a mile in length and its estimated cost is $1,000,000.

Henry Jacobs, notice of whose illness was made a day or two ago, is in a serious condition, being afflicted with typhoid symptoms. Mr. Jacobs is employed in the Pittsburgh planing mills. John Richey, of the same shop, is also on the sick list.

Master Car Builder J. A. Graham, of the Pittsburgh, is suffering from an attack of indigestion and has been confined to his home for the past two days. The attack is not considered serious, however, and is expected to pass away in a day or two.

R. J. O'Neil, a Wabash fireman, who was employed in the yards in this city for some time, has been promoted to the passenger service and will have a run through this city with Engineer Grady. Fireman Wing, of Peru, will take the place on the switch engine.

Walter A. Bowden, the well known telegrapher, is taking a couple weeks lay off in accordance with the instructions of his physician. While not very ill, Mr. Bowden is threatened with a serious attack and absolute rest has been recommended as the only preventive.

Of Roach & Albanus, 115-117 Calhoun St. A large line, all hand made, are being sold regardless of cost to manufacture. 8tf

WILL MAKE MOTOR CARRIAGESAUTOMOBILES BUILT BY A FORT WAYNE FACTORY.

Roach & Albanus Begin the Manufacture of the Horseless Carriage—One Nearly Ready.

Within a very short time the public will have the pleasure of viewing a horseless carriage of Fort Wayne manufacture, and a lending firm of carriage builders, Roach & Albanus, will turn their attention to the construction of the automobile. This firm has been quietly working at the matter for some time, and at their factory on Clay street a sample carriage is nearing completion. It only awaits the installing of the motor power, which will be produced by a gasoline engine. It was the design of the builders that the first intimation of this new Fort Wayne industry should come to the public when the completed carriage was placed upon the streets, but the matter leaked out, and Mr. Roach now admits that they are preparing to begin the manufacture of the coming vehicle on a large scale.

The new carriage is to be a home production. It is the invention of a Fort Wayne gentleman whose name cannot be divulged for the present, and only Fort Wayne capital will be interested in its manufacture. The inventor is to be a partner in its production and he brings to the company two systems of power, one from gasoline and the other electric. For the present only the gasoline engine will be used. The carriage now nearly completed is mainly to demonstrate the utility of the plans, but great things are expected of it.

The later patterns are to carry two persons, and will be modeled somewhat after the pattern of a stanhope, with rubber cushion tires and ball bearings, and nearly all the mechanism will be concealed in the body of the vehicle. Roach & Albanus do not contemplate retirement from their established carriage business in any particular. The new departure is merely an addition to it.

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

The Rev. W. C. Bower has resigned the pastorate of the Christian church at Astley and will spend the next two years in Butler university, at Indianapolis.

John Dyche, living near Wooster, Ohio, found his 15-year-old daughter at Kendallville, after a separation of eleven years. She went away with her mother when but 4 years old.

A. J. Paul, of Cass county, who shot and cremated seven hogs, fearing that they were possessed of the devil, has sent for a Chicago faith healer to minister to his wife, who is very ill.

A fire loss of $12,000 is reported at Angola, in the destruction of Jerome Morse's livery stable and contents, and John Nye's carriage factory, with a number of vehicles of all kinds. Nye, who lost $7,000, carried $2,000 insurance.

Rev. W. H. Wilson, of Des Moines, Iowa, has formally advised the board of trustees of the First Presbyterian church, Michigan City, of his acceptance of the call to the pastorate of the church. Mr. Wilson had been engaged to temporarily supply the pulpit. His family will come from Des Moines to Michigan City.

Charles M. Burroughs and Cordelin M. Tull were united in marriage in South Bend in June, 1896, Burroughs claiming Kankakee, Ill., as his home, while the bride hailed from Niles, Mich. Burroughs is now reported under arrest at Winona, Mich., the complainant being a man from Pennsylvania, who alleges that Burroughs married his daughter since the date in question. It is also alleged that he also married girls in Minnesota and Ohio.

Clemente Myers, superintendent of the Jay county infirmary, was arrested Wednesday on a grand jury indictment alleging cruel and inhuman treatment of inmates and failure to provide sufficient food and clothing. He gave bond. Some time ago the grand jury investigated the infirmary and protested against the superintendent serving worthy men to the inmates. The county commissioners investigated and exonerated Myers. The arrest followed on an indictment.

Liberty Center, Wells county, is somewhat excited over a small tent show that struck the village this week. Wednesday night the usual program was being rendered, the first on the program being a song by the wife of one of the proprietors. About an hour after she had rendered her solo one of the employees hurried after Dr. Gehrett and the show now has a new attraction—a big girl baby. The show is still at Liberty Center, and expects to draw larger crowds than ever on account of the new actress.

Columbia City Post: "While Rudolph Kolbig was at work Thursday morning on the new house he is constructing for J. H. Clark, in Union township, he was bitten in the left thumb by a rattlesnake. It was early in the morning and Mr. Kolbig was picking up some building material when he was struck by the poisonous reptile. He soon secured his release and the sly intruder made good his escape. Rudolph at once secured some string and bound it about the thumb so closely that the circulation of blood was shut off, and he then drove to this city at a more rapid gait than usual. He went to the office of Dr. O. V. Schuman, who lanced the poisoned part and allowed all the bad blood to escape. The doctor then recommended the usual remedy for such cases and the patient repaired to his home, just east of the city, and will probably experience little trouble from the bite."
